Last waltz as ballroom finally razed

DEVELOPERS have removed all traces of Hednesford's popular Aquarius Ballroom.

The Victoria Street site where the famous venue once stood is now a pile of rubble after it was razed to the ground.

Work began on flattening the ballroom, in late September and now 60 years of dancing at the site is well and truly over.

There were several attempts to save the building, which was once a magnet for dancers from across the county. However, Hednesford residents lost their battle and held two farewell dances, the Grand Finale and The Last Waltz, in May, to mark the ballroom's demise.

The removal is part of Hednesford's £50m redevelopment scheme to regenerate the town. Until it closed, the Aquarius had thousands of people through its doors each week.

It hosted dance classes, including the latest zumba and burlesque crazes as well as the more gentle tea dances and old-time waltz sessions. Big bands, soul and Motown nights, over-30s' evenings were also popular weekend events.

Many of the groups which used the Aquarius are now based at the Civic Ballroom in Cannock town centre until a replacement community hall is built as part of the project.

The developers are saving a block section of the dance floor of the old building to instal in the new building, which will be above shops in the Victoria Shopping Park phase.

Sort-it plea on gangs of youths

A HEDNESFORD councillor has called for the police to put a stop to youngsters who he said were plaguing the town with anti-social behaviour.

Councillor John Burnett, Cannock Chase Council's ward member for Hednesford South, said the youths were targeting Kingfisher Drive, Pendle Hill and Stafford Lane.

According to the councillor recent incidents had included windows being broken, eggs thrown and garden plants destroyed.

Councillor Burnett said: "I have always been supportive of our police.

"I hesitate to criticise but there is an issue in Hednesford that needs addressing and I refer to the gangs of marauding, dysfunctional youths who continue to plague our town and the surrounding area.

Limited

"The problems are not insurmountable and the time frame quite limited since they are a few hours each evening and mainly on a Friday night."

Councillor Burnett stressed the youths were not, as had been suggested, from a Salvation Army youth club.

He added: "As a resident put to me: why don't they mount covert surveillance?"

"It's no good turning up in a highly visible patrol car when the culprits immediately take flight."

Cannock police chief inspector Carl Ratcliffe, said anti-social behaviour had fallen in the past six months.

He added: "If anyone has concerns they should contact their neighbourhood beat officer who will take the necessary action to resolve the situation."

Brindley in as Chasetown boss steps down

cannockchron@expressandstar.co.uk

CHASETOWN boss Charlie Blakemore is stepping down as the club's manager – but will stay on at the club as a Scholars director.

During nearly eight years in charge, Blakemore guided the club from the lower reaches of the Midland Alliance to the Evo-Stik Northern Premier as well as to the FA Cup third round.

He this week announced he was quitting his role because of work commitments.

The former Wolves reserve, who also played for Stourbridge, Rushall and Wilenhall, is managing director of a division of the aerospace company BAE Systems – which employs 5,000 people – and feels he cannot commit enough time to Chasetown.

Former Hednesford Town and Stafford boss Chris Brindley will take over following Saturday's game with Rangers.

Enjoyed

Blakemore said: "It has been an unbelievable time for me and my family and we have thoroughly enjoyed it all.

"I am very proud of what we have all achieved in this period as it has been a real team effort.

"These last few years have been a great challenge for me as my career outside of football has progressed and become more and more demanding.

"It has been very difficult to give up the time needed every day to manage the club at this level.

"I have had to miss four games already this season due to work commitments.

"I want to thank everyone who has helped me in my time as manager at the club. We all have some special memories and I very much want to help to create some more in the future with the new management team.

"It is a great club with a good fan base now. We are well run with ambition to progress within our means."

Blakemore first took charge of a Scholars game on February 21, 2004, a 1-1 draw at Alvechurch. He was at the helm for a total of 322 league games, losing just 82 of them, winning 180.

Highest

Blakemore's team picked up 600 league points during his time in charge, but his spell will be best remembered for two FA Cup runs which put Chasetown on the football map.

The 2005 run saw the Scholars play

Oldham Athletic in the first round and a Match of the Day appearance. The second run, in 2007, created FA Cup history as they became the lowest-ranked side to reach the third round as they took on Cardiff, having already beaten Port Vale.

Last season, Blakemore saw his Scholars team reach their highest ever league position as they also reached the quarter-finals of the FA Trophy.

Blakemore will join chairman John Donnelly and chief Executive Mike Joiner on the board. Mr Donnelly said: "Charlie has done an amazing job over the past eight years as manager and has really put the club on the map.

"We have known for some time that his career outside of football was also progressing and he feels he can just not give up the time needed anymore.

"Mike and I immediately asked him if he would take up a position on the board as he has both good business and football experience. He played for the club at 16, coached and managed the club and he is now a director, it is great that he has been at all levels with us now."

On Brindley's appointment, Blakemore said: "I have known Chris for a long time and I think he is a great appointment."

"He knows the club and the level well and has a good network."

Management and staff prepare for the opening of the new Hednesford Bingo Hall at the Chase Gateway Redevelopment in Victoria Street

Full house expected for reopening of bingo hall

IT'S set to be a full house at the reopening of a new bingo hall which has created 22 new jobs in Hednesford.

The hall will open at the Chase Gateway Redevelopment, in Victoria Street, next Thursday October 20, at 4pm.

Manager Andrew Reilly, who brought the old club in 2008, said he was confident the new venue will cater for everyone across the town.

"I am really chuffed with how things are looking; I fell in love with the place as soon as I saw it and am more than confident my manger and his staff will do me and our members very proud.

"It has been a long road but it is important to move with the times and re-develop while offering fair prizes for fair prices.

"Everyone has been very supportive, the local people are the benefactors of this and we hope to make a huge contribution to the continued development of the town."

The original co-founder of the Hednesford bingo hall, Ian Carter, will cut the ribbon during a special opening ceremony on the launch day.

Flower power for patients

PATIENTS from Cannock Hospital have put on a blooming good show at the West Midlands Network Flower Show.

The occupational therapy patients won eight medals in total.

That was a good ratio as they only entered 17 categories at the event at Sandwell Valley, West Bromwich.

The show is organised by Cultivations, a charity working in the field of therapeutic horticulture.

The prizes won by Cannock Hospital included three gold medals, one silver and four bronze.

Each year adults with physical, mental health or learning disabilities from across the region compete for the coveted prize of Best in Show for their produce, cakes and crafts.

As part of their therapy at Cannock Chase Hospital, patients take part in pottery, baking, craft, carpentry and gardening classes.

Christine Mate, senior occupational therapist, said: "When patients come to us they have often lost their confidence and lack motivation."

"Our daily groups give them the skills to carry out everyday activities like baking and gardening."

"It rebuilds their confidence and gives them a sense of achievement."

"This project required total commitment from patients, considering they only had a short time to prepare, and staff were only too willing to provide the support required to make sure everything was completed on time."

Youngsters splash out in charity event

YOUNGSTERS at a life saving club in Cheslyn Hay have raised more than £2,750 for charity.

The sponsored life save, held at Cheslyn Hay leisure centre last month, saw 35 children go to great depths to raise cash for the Motor Neurone Disease Association.

More than 500 pretend casualties were saved from the pool and with sponsorship still coming in organisers are hoping to break the £3,000 barrier.

Vice chairman John Trout, who was diagnosed with MND in 2007, said: "It was a brilliant weekend and the support from everyone at the leisure centre, was overwhelming."

"Fortunately I am still able to teach life saving once a week but I really felt it was about time I did something while I still had the chance to give something back to the MND."

"Everybody was so quick to offer their support and it was great to see so many people get involved."

All money raised will go to the association, based in Northampton, to help them in their research to finding a cure.

Work starts on A5

DELAYS are expected as resurfacing work takes place on the A5 at Cannock. The work will take place over eight nights from 8pm to 6am from Friday, October 21. The east-bound and westbound carriageways will be closed from Longford Island. A 10mph speed limit will be in place.

The opening of Celebration Village, at Kingston Court, Walsall Road

New wedding centre is the icing on the cake

A NEW one-stop wedding centre has opened in Cannock.

Celebration Village is based at Kingston Court, off Walsall Road.

Lesley Perfect, who runs a wedding cake making business, and photographer Tina Brevitt have teamed up to offer a full range of wedding services under one roof.

The centre, which is open Monday to Saturday 9.30am to 5.30pm, also offers beauty treatments and hair for brides, wedding co-ordination, hand made bridal wear, flowers and stationery.

Chairman of Pritchard Group plc Fred Pritchard, the owner of the property, officially opened the new business. Mr

Pritchard said it was a great idea to have complementary businesses all trading under one roof. "It is a real one-stop shop for organising your wedding," he said.

Councillor John Beddows, the chairman of Cannock Chase Council also attended the ribbon cutting ceremony. Tina, who runs Chase PhotoStudio, said: "The idea is to offer everything people need for a wedding from one point. We are holding a wedding fair on the last Sunday of each month as well from 10am," she added.

● The winner of the Chronicle to win a makeover at Celebration Village was Vicky Conway, of Wissage Lane, Lichfield.

New warehouse plan brings 300 jobs boost

AROUND 300 jobs will be created under new plans to create a major parcel delivery warehouse in Cannock.

Delivery firm Alternative Parcels Co Ltd has unveiled a scheme to convert vacant land on the Kingswood Lakeside industrial estate in Cannock into a giant warehouse and 208-space car park.

The firm handed in details of the plans to council planners in Cannock this week, vowing that the development would create up to 300 new jobs for local people.

The news has been welcomed by Cannock MP Aidan Burley, who said it would boost the local economy and demonstrated an "encouraging future" for the former mining town.

"I very much welcome these proposals and this is further evidence that Cannock Chase is open for business and that jobs and prosperity are coming back to our area," he added.

Alternative Parcels wants to utilise the land to the north of Blakeney Way for a new national sorting centre.

In a planning statement sent to Cannock Chase Council, the company says: "The development would provide up to 300 jobs."

Skills

"The APC workforce comprises of long-term local employees with a variety of skills key to the development of the company."

"The proposed building would be make a significant contribution towards improving the appearance and image of Kingswood Lakeside, particularly when viewed from the adjoining M6 Toll."

The building would provide 148,832 sq ft of space, which would include a two-storey administration office building.

The company has more than 125 local depots covering all areas of the country.

Obesity levels on the rise

CHILDHOOD obesity levels in Cannock have risen from last year and are above the national average.

Figures released by the South Staffordshire PCT have revealed that about 100 children in reception years (13 per cent) and 200 (23 per cent) at year six have been classified as obese in Cannock. The national average for England should be 10 per cent and 19 per cent respectively.

However in Lichfield, these figures are lower than the national average, with 80 children being classified as obese (nine per cent) in reception, and 200 (16 per cent) at year six.

A PCT spokesman said: "We have challenges with obese children and adults, like other areas of England. We are committed to helping people maintain a healthy weight and lifestyle throughout their lives. Working with partners we provide a range of services across Staffordshire to help reduce obesity in children and adults."

Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley said: "The Government is working with schools and the NHS to promote exercise and healthy living in Cannock Chase. We are committed to continuing the Healthy Child Programme, and will soon publish a plan setting out how the NHS will tackle obesity in future."

David Evans, principal at the Staffordshire University Academy said they were "fully committed" to ensuring all students embraced their healthy schools programme.

Volunteers are sought to work for Chase CAB

AN advice centre is looking for new recruits to help a growing number of people struggling to cope in the recession.

Bosses at the Chase Citizens Advice Bureau have seen a sharp rise in their workload with more people being thrown out of work and struggling to pay bills. They are looking for volunteers to help their local community, including people who run small businesses with skills that they can put to other uses.

Christine Martin, of the Chase CAB, said people were needed to help develop its services and secure resources for the future.

She added: "Experience of using, working in or volunteering with the CAB is not essential but we do have an interview process to ensure that candidates are suitable for the kind of work we do. We are looking for people with a wide variety of skills and a diversity of experiences."

Anyone interested should contact the CAB at 7 Brook Square, Rugeley, WS15 2DU or call 01889 570095.

Weekly bin rounds bid is rejected

COUNCILS in Cannock, Lichfield and South Staffs have rejected the offer of government funding to bring back weekly bin collections.

Controversial fortnightly collections will now remain for thousands of families. But council bosses in Cannock have revealed they are "interested" in the cash incentive.

Communities and Local Government Secretary Eric Pickles said he believed every household had "a basic right" to have rubbish collected every week and announced councils would be offered a share of £250 million to end fortnightly collections.

But councillor Joan Williams, cabinet member for environmental services at South Staffordshire Council, said the authority would not take up the offer.

"We are concerned that the fund is for a limited period and that council taxpayers may be left to pick up the cost when the money runs out," she said.

Happy

"Our existing system has worked well for seven years so taking into consideration all of these things, it's not something South Staffordshire will be pursuing."

Stafford Borough Council leader Councillor Michael Heenan said: "We are not going to go back to weekly mixed collections."

Lichfield District Council bosses said they were "very happy" with the waste collection service already provided. But Councillor George Adamson, leader of Cannock Chase Council, said: "If the Government provides the cash, we are willing to provide the service," he said.

Members will wait to receive the full details of the funding offer before making a final decision. The scheme is expected to begin next April.

Soldier handed campaign medal

ACHESLYN Hay soldier has been presented with his campaign medal after a demanding and gruelling six month tour in Afghanistan.

Lance Corporal Ryan Penn, aged 25, a former Great Wyrley High School pupil served with Germany-based 28 Engineer Regiment as part of 65 Field Squadron Resources troop 2.

The father-of-three was deployed to a variety of locations across Afghanistan, including Camp Bastion and other bases around Helmand Province providing logistical support to over 500 army engineers. L Cpl Penn - who also served in Iraq in 2005 - was based in Camp Bastion from March to September in the role of combat engineer and mechanic.

He said: "My main job was to keep the water purification equipment up and running. We were worked really long hours but the tour wasn't too bad. "It was challenging but I learned a lot."

During the tour his regiment helped to create a Royal Engineers bridging yard to support the building and repair of military and civilian bridges in the country.

L Cpl Penn, who is married to Jade, aged 25, and has children Libby, aged six,

Corey, five and Oliver, 10 weeks, added: "Because of the work rate we had to have the equipment ready to go back out within hours of it breaking down. I am very happy to get my medal and really proud."

The medals parade took place at the regiment's camp in Hamelin, Germany, and was attended by Brigadier Iain James, the engineer in chief, who presented soldiers with their medals.

He said: "The engineers are our unsung heroes, without them the Army cannot operate. They do an incredibly important job."

Residents say rodents are crawling around estate

Rats on streets after manhole cover thefts

RESIDENTS on a Cannock estate claim rats been crawling the streets because thieves have stolen dozens of manhole covers near a worksite.

Those living on the Jubilee estate say rats have been plaguing homes since work began on a multi-million pound scheme to redevelop a derelict site behind Snowdon Road.

The theft of the covers - which can be sold on in the scrap metal market - follows similar incidents across Dudley where around 200 manhole covers have been stolen over the past three weeks. Cannock Chase Council bosses have had to replace 30 manhole covers.

The first sightings of the rats was about six months ago, residents said, and despite pest control experts from Cannock Chase Council putting rat poison down, it has done little to deter further rodents.

David Bailey, aged 62, of Snowdon Road, Cannock, said: "The rats just come in the garden and make holes."

"It means we can't leave the doors open and it will get worse as the winter goes on."

"I think people were stealing manhole covers for scrap metal but now the covers have been replaced."

He added: "I'm scared of rats, it's not very nice."

Wife Jackie, 47, added, said: "When we take our dog around the block, you're looking into open sewers."

"It's quite a big problem. There must have been about five or six covers taken from Elizabeth Road."

Neighbour Pauline Banks said: "The garden can become a bit of rat run and it's not very nice."

"When I go outside now, I always make sure I have gloves or slippers on."

Spat

Figures released last month show 120 drain covers have been plundered in Dudley streets in six months. It follows a spate of thefts in Wolverhampton where 30 covers were taken in two weeks.

Alistair Smith, of Cannock Chase Council, said: "There have been localised disturbances linked to development work on the Snowdon Road estate. It is linked to work on drainage."

"Contractors have replaced 30 manhole covers now where the rats were thought to be coming from."

David Bailey from Snowdon Road has seen rats around his area because drain covers have been stolen from Elizabeth Road

Sex pest boss gets a jail term

A TELESALLES boss who sexually assaulted a young woman and pestered three others has been jailed.

Andrew Brocklebank, aged 25, lured his victim into the back office and made her do "forfeits", including taking off her top and groping her. Stafford crown court heard. The terrified girl never went back to the double glazing company in Cannock.

Police arrested him at his flat in St Anne's Road, Willenhall, and he claimed the woman had been trying to kiss him. He denied there were any "forfeits".

Brocklebank, now of no fixed address, was jailed for a total of 28 months after admitting one charge of sexual assault and three breaches of a Sexual Offences Prevention Order.

Contact

Mr Paul Farrow, prosecuting, said at the time of the offences Brocklebank was subject to an order limiting his contact with young women outside of work time.

Mr Justice Flaux was told that in 2005 Brocklebank was jailed for 30 months for abducting an 11-year-old boy from school. In March 2009, magistrates at Northwich, Cheshire made him subject to a SOPO.

Mr Farrow said the police had become concerned about the defendant's contact with young mothers.

The judge told Brocklebank: "During office hours you lured the victim in to a back room to complete a 'dare' you told her was part of the office culture."

"Before long, it became sexual. You told her the dare was to remove her top. On a third occasion you removed her bra and Hobson to kiss her."

Miss Laura Hobson, defending, said the offences had been committed over a very short time frame.

MP guests as milk monitor

PUPILS welcomed a special guest milk monitor on World School Milk Day - their local MP.

Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley visited Chads Moor Community Infants and Nursery School for the day that encourages children to drink milk.

"I enjoyed being an honorary milk monitor for the day, and was pleased to have the opportunity to support this international initiative which helps promote the importance of drinking milk at school," the Conservative MP said.

Headteacher Karen Burns said milk at snack time in the nursery was helping pupils adopt healthy eating habits.

In the UK, school milk is free for children in day-care or primary education under the age of five, and subsidised for pupils aged five to 11.

Launch of fund to help talents

A CHARITABLE fund committed to improving the lives of people in Cannock, Hednesford and Rugeley has been officially launched.

The Chase Community Fund was set up at Bridgtown Community Centre, in Orbital Plaza, last Friday (October 7) in a meeting chaired by Cannock businessman Fred Pritchard.

Representatives of the Chase Community Fund explained the mission and the aims of the fund group, which hopes to ensure permanent and lasting sources of grant funding is sourced for the district's community and voluntary groups.

The group plans to assist groups or individuals with special talents and encourage more people to become actively involved in activities without prejudice.

Elements

Kent Parson, Chase Council for Voluntary Services chief officer, explained the elements of the Community Fund from the donors' and the recipients' angle, while Pat Griffin, trustee of the Staffordshire Community Foundation, talked about the trust and how the fund will work.

Mr Pritchard said: "Be it a donation for a children's play centre requirements, for sport for the elderly, or any worthwhile cause to help people across Cannock Chase, I urge people to make contact with the Chase Community Fund."

For details, email kent-parson@chase-cvs.org.co.uk or ring the Staffordshire Community Foundation on 01782 683000.

Fundraisers gather for the Macmillan coffee morning

Cup of cheer as cash raised

A PENKRIDGE woman invited a host of friends round for a cuppa in memory of her best pal. Jayne Holmes hosted the event at her home in St Modwena way for Macmillan Cancer Support as part of the charity's World's Biggest Coffee Morning.

The well-attended event was held in memory of Karen Taylor, Jayne's best friend, who passed away last November. It would have been Karen's birthday two days after the coffee morning, which raised £1,267. That was doubled by Barclays to realise a final figure of more than £2,500. Jayne said she would like to thank everyone who helped to make the event possible and was overwhelmed by the support and generosity of the local community.

"Karen did voluntary work within Penkridge and will always be loved and remembered by everyone who knew her," she said.

Beverley Smith, Staffordshire fundraising manager for Macmillan, said: "The amount of money raised by the community of Penkridge is fantastic and Macmillan Cancer Support would like to thank everyone who attended Jayne's coffee morning."

FOR a village which once measured 30 acres in size and had just seven houses, Bridgtown has forged a rich and varied history for itself.

Industry, sport, leisure and education has been rife in the village since it was established in 1861, while Bridgtown even survived a threat to its own existence in the 1970s when the council unsuccessfully attempted to demolish housing en masse and completely industrialise the area.

That history will be marked, acknowledged and celebrated this weekend when the village officially turns 150 years old. Bridgtown & District Local History Society, which will lead the celebrations, has painstakingly unearthed facts, figures and details of village life since the group formed in 2009 led by chairman Tony Pearson.

"When our team was formed just two and a half years ago, little did we know what a rewarding and revealing time lay ahead," Mr Pearson wrote in a booklet to mark the 150th anniversary.

"The fascinating truth is progressively being revealed and our society's prime purpose is to convey and record that unique history for present and future generations."

Some 169 years ago the area which would become Bridgtown was a triangle-shaped area of neglected farmland – between Watling Street, Walsall Road and North Street – which was owned by Wolverhampton Building Society. Industry surrounded the area, such as Gilpins factory in Churchbridge, or the mine at Rumer Hill, while a railway from Walsall to Hednesford was completed in 1858.

At this time Bridgtown's first pub, the Anglesey Arms (now the Stumble Inn) was built on Bridge Street for railway workers and people started to arrive in the area for employment, living in Cheslyn Hay and Great Wyrley.

In 1860 the building society decided the triangle of land, which measured 30 acres, should be divided into plots and would be sold and a year later Bridgtown was born.

Sheila Jackson, who has written a booklet to celebrate the 150th birthday said the village was a very different place today.

Bridgtown & District Local History Society's celebrations take place at Bridgtown Social Club, on Walsall Road, from 10am-4pm

Alert as old lady targeted by caller

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after a pensioner was forced to hand over cash to a bogus caller.

The incident happened in Hospital Road, Hammerwich, at around noon on Wednesday, September 28.

The offender claimed to be from a local housing association and convinced the elderly householder to hand over a large amount of cash to pay for work in her garden.

The man returned to the house at 9am on October 3 or 4, claiming he had a receipt for the woman before walking off.

He was wearing a distinctive knee-length brown coat and trilby hat.

CID officers are continuing their investigations and are asking anyone who may have seen, or knows the man, to get in touch on 01785 235933.

Alternatively, they can ring Staffordshire Police on 0300 123 4455 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Unsafe vehicles stopped

POLICE and council officers teamed up in a crackdown on pollution, waste and unsafe cars in Cannock.

More than 35 vehicles were stopped at Linkway retail park on the A5 as part of a stop-and-search programme involving waste documentation and local air quality concerns.

Cannock Chase District Council joined Staffordshire Police and the Vehicle and Operator Services Agency (VOSA) to carry out checks on vehicles and documentation, while also gathering information about journey habits.

During the morning 37 vehicles were checked, and nine needed further action by the local authority. One vehicle was being used for carrying waste without a waste carrier licence. A yellow transit van used by scrap collectors was found to have missing windscreen wipers, broken lights, an expired tax and a balding tyre which was exposed down to the metal.

The driver received three points and an on-the-spot £60 fine from VOSA inspectors and had to change the tyre before leaving the inspection point.

Stephen Moore, Cannock Chase Council pollution control officer, said a sample of vehicles were stopped to find out why they were using the A5, and at the same time a number of vehicles which could have become dangerous were also stopped.

He said: "Congestion on the A5 has led to harmful levels of nitrogen dioxide in the air, which breaches national objectives for human health."

"We need to formulate a plan on how to tackle air pollution and divert some of the traffic on to more suitable roads – first need to find out why people use the A5 above other roads."

Traders' cash aid for school play facilities

TRADERS in Rugeley donated £900 to help a school improve play facilities.

Members of Redbrook Hayes Primary School's Parents, Teachers and Friends Association contacted Rugeley Traders' Association looking for a donation towards a children's roundabout.

The school said the donation would help children with disabilities to enjoy the school's outside area.

PTFA chairman Bev Taylor said: "As a committee we work very hard with the children and parents to get involved with the community. We are grateful for the £900 donation."

Traders' group chairman Chris Green said: "We are delighted that we have been able to donate money to such a worthwhile cause."

Fundraising craft fair held at church

A CRAFT Fair is being held by St Peter's parish church later this month. The fair, on Saturday, October 29, is part of the church's community outreach and fund raising programme.

It starts at 10.30am and at the church hall, in Church Hill. Tables are £5 and can be booked by contacting Carole Howard 01543 423522.

Cancer battlers raise hospital funds

Sharon Hancox (left) and Sue Lynskey hand over the £6,000 cheque for the Burton Hospital chemotherapy unit to Dr Chetiwardana

TWO brave Burntwood ladies who battled breast cancer have helped raise £6,000 for Burton Hospital.

Sharon Hancox, 55, and Sue Lynskey, 39, have been raising money for the hospital since they were both diagnosed with the illness six years ago.

Their latest donation has gone to the chemotherapy unit where Dr Chetiwardana, consultant clinical oncologist, who treated them both, accepted the cheque.

The kind-hearted duo, who are nearing the end of their treatment, have hosted a range of charity discos and social events, at St Matthew's sports and social club, where Sharon is a stewardess.

Earlier this year the ladies handed over £7,000 to the breast care unit which was used to purchase specialist machinery for the ward.

Sharon's husband Robert, who is also a steward at the club, said: "I feel it is really important that they are recognised for the hard work they have put in to raising so much money."

"They are doing all they can to put something back and it is absolutely superb to see the money raised being put to such great use at the hospital."

"Everyone at the social club supports them thoroughly and will continue to do so."

"Burton Hospital have been so good to us all, it has been a hard journey but we've got through it, and Sharon and Sue will continue to raise even more money."

They are already planning a host of other fundraisers to kick off 2012.

Sign put in window labelled woman a 'snob' Neighbour in court over 'big nose' jibe

A GREAT Wyrley man who put signs in his window saying his neighbour had a 'big nose' and was a 'snob' has been handed a conditional discharge by magistrates.

Mark Birks placed three signs in a window of his home in Wharwell Lane, referring to his neighbour Shirley Majewski.

He had in September been handed a 12-month restraining order by another magistrates court which had warned him not to cause harassment, alarm or distress to Mrs Majewski, Jan Majewski and Anthony Smith.

However an administrative error meant it had not been issued correctly, so the charge made towards him had to be changed from breaching the order.

Birks, aged 52, admitted the new charge of a section five public order act where he displayed a sign visible to others which was threatening, abusive or insulting and would cause harassment, alarm or distress.

John Peel, prosecuting, said Mrs Majewski was called by another neighbour and told about the sign in September. When she saw it, the police were called and Birks was arrested and interviewed.

However when they asked if he understood if his actions would be a breach of the restraining order, he said he didn't.

Padlock

"He said that he didn't think that his actions would upset Shirley. He had just wanted to make her aware of what he felt," said Mr Peel.

But in a victim impact statement, Mrs Majewski said she felt harassed by him, she had to walk different ways to exercise her dog, padlock her gate and may even have to leave the home she loved to get away from the 'torment'.

In mitigation, Rob Govier said Birks now understood that his actions could cause distress but he hadn't thought through what he had done.

"He is adamant that he hadn't put the messages up to intentionally distress Mrs Majewski. But having done so she was."

"He has been monumentally silly," he added. Mr Govier said Birks was single and lived alone, and was on state benefits, receiving incapacity benefit for a rare form of epilepsy.

Magistrates gave Birks a 12-month conditional discharge and warned him that the restraining order had been amended.

He was also ordered to pay £85 in court costs.

Sports prowess rewarded

TWO Great Wyrley students have picked up awards for their sporting and physical prowess.

Great Wyrley Performing Arts High School held an event to recognise the efforts of pupils who have excelled in various sporting activities, competing against the very best from other counties.

Year 7 student Amber Bannister, aged, picked up a karate bronze medal, while 13-year-old Jessica Robbins, of Year 9, won gold and silver for her gymnastic ability. Amber is a member of Walsall School of Shotokan Karate club. She won her bronze medal in Kumite at the Edinburgh World Championship.

Jessica picked up silver overall in the Federation of Gymnastics for the 12-13 age group.

Her talents also saw her pick up a gold for her vaulting skills and a gold on the beam. The event took place at the Alexander Stadium in Birmingham.

Food market to get under way in village

A NEW food market is coming to Penkridge from this weekend. Market traders in Penkridge will be holding a new Fine Food and Craft Market on the third Saturday of every month.

The first of the new markets will be held Saturday (October 15).

Liz Williams, owner of Penkridge Market, said: "The food and craft market is a great new event for us and gives people the opportunity to support local producers and businesses. It also offers people a fantastic free day out, right here on their doorstep."

"There will be fabulous food and drink, plus local crafts will all be available in the indoor market and activities for children including a bouncy castle."

Admission to the market and parking will be free and produce on display will include local cheeses, breads and olives, as well as homemade cakes, pies and preserves.

Lantern walk by Friends

FRIENDS of Hedsnesford Park will light up the town when they host their first lantern story walk.

The event will take place on Monday October 31, at 4.30pm, from Market Square, near the clock.

Guests will be guided around the perimeter of the park and follow the story through a series of art work displayed along the route.

Schools, youth groups and organisations from across the town will also show off their work on a special autumn-themed tree.

Fancy dress is encouraged as well creating homemade lanterns which can be assembled by following instructions at www.thegoodlife.uk.net/out-and-about/magical-lanterns.html.

The event, supported by Cannock Chase District Council and Hedsnesford Town Community, is the first the Friends have developed since their official set up last month.

There will also be prizes for the best lantern and best fancy dress. Children under 16 must be accompanied by an adult and no naked flames are allowed.

Steven Hall, who entertained the nation with his "dad-style" dancing to contemporary pop songs, judged Bridgtown's Search for a Star competition.

The competition was organised by Greenwood Studios and Bridgtown Working Men's Social Club.

Kenyon Walker, of Greenwood Studios, said: "We had a fantastic response to the competition with more than 50 contestants and an audience of over one and a half thousand. There have been some amazing acts."

Steven Hall said: "It was a pleasure to be part of such an entertaining event."

The winner was 11-year-old singer Emilia Roberts, from Bridgtown, who won a recording day, photo shoot and video with Greenwood Studio. Emilia's single will be available on iTunes from November 18.

Pupils get a taste of the Orient

TWO teachers from the Far East called in on a Penkridge school to talk to the students about life in China.

Pupils and staff at Penkridge Middle School gave a warm welcome to the teachers from an international school in Pudong, Shanghai. Pu Yongping and Zhou Lingping are from Penkridge Middle's partner school.

Head Sue King said the useful visit gave her the chance to show the Chinese visitors what life is like in an English middle school.

She said: "We are developing our links and exchanging ideas across many subjects - the children were very excited."

"It is a great opportunity for us all to develop our global links and realise we are all part of a worldwide community."

Governor Debbie Cooper, deputy Richard West, head-teacher Sue King and pupils Sarah Brown, Callum Morgan, Jodie Smith, Lucy Baker, Olivia Pace and Corbin Griffiths, all aged nine, welcome Pu Yongping and Zhou Lingping to Penkridge Middle School

Open day for charity

A LEISURE complex is opening its doors to the general public for the first time this weekend in aid of two charity organisations. The Chase Golf, Health Club & Spa at Pottall Pool is inviting non-members to help raise money for the Newlife Foundation and Cannock Lions.

The open day is on Saturday, October 15, from 10am to 6pm, when a wide range of activities will be on offer.

Visitors can take part in any of the activities for a small charitable donation.

Membership manager Alison McCombe said: "This is an opportunity for everyone to use our facilities whilst helping support local charities. It should be a really fun day."

A zumba party will run between 10.30am and midday for a £4 donation and there will be golf classes and challenges and taster sessions on pilates and belly dancing.

Friends in tribute to popular bowler

Bowler Frank Turner

FRIENDS and team-mates have paid tributes following the shock death of a Cannock sportsman.

Frank Turner, of Stoney Croft Gardens, died in Stafford Hospital on October 4 after emergency surgery to remove a blood clot on his lung. He was 65.

Mr Turner played for the Chads Moor Progressive Bowling Club, which he joined in 1976.

He played numerous times for Staffordshire County team after making his debut in 1980, and has been described by team mates as a 'loyal, reliable and dependable club man'.

Mr Turner recently achieved success with his Chads Moor team after winning the Staffordshire Challenge Cup on August 2. He was also a keen snooker player.

Mr Turner was a bachelor and had no immediate family. Team-mate Mel Evans described his friend as a 'tough competitor and a thoroughly nice bloke'.

Sudden

He said: "We are all shocked at the sudden and unexpected passing of Frank. He will be sadly missed by his many friends in the bowls and snooker fraternity."

The funeral service takes place next Wednesday, October 19 at Bushbury crematorium at 2.30pm.

Groups have a say on future of Chase

Volunteer Jackie Reeves with Tia Byatt-Faunch, aged 14, left, and Beth Brindley, 11

Youngsters get on board for pirate day

PIRATES took over at Norton Canes library for a special family fun day. The library in Burntwood Road, staged the day to mark the start of National Family Learning Month. Many of the youngsters dressed as pirates to join in the fun. They were able to join in all kinds of pirate-themed crafts and games at the new library and community hub building. During Family Learning Month extra two-hour sessions are being put on at Staffordshire libraries with funding from Adult and Community Learning. Most of the activities appeal to school-age children, although educational opportunities for adults are also being highlighted.

COMMUNITY groups have had the chance to put forward views on the future of Cannock Chase.

Groups including Friends of Cannock Chase told the Independent Panel on Forestry of their fears for the beauty spot. Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley also asked Brindley Heath parish council, representatives from the Save Cannock Chase Facebook group and Hednesford Town Council to put forward their views.

The Independent Panel on Forestry is putting together a report on the future of woodland across the country.

In August, an 18-page report highlighting the value of Cannock Chase to the community helped to cement a campaign to safeguard the beauty spot, and was also sent to the Independent Panel.

It described the Chase's role in attracting tourists, producing timber, and its educational value for schoolchildren. The panel has been carrying out fact-finding visits to report back to Environment Secretary Caroline Spelman.

Mr Burley said: "I am pleased that all four of the groups were able to speak to the panel."

Themes

A statement issued on behalf of the Independent Panel said: "The conversations were most helpful and revealed a range of views about a number of issues relating principally to the public forest estate and Forestry Commission, but also some about the wider Cannock Chase."

"The two most common themes were a clear sense of local ownership of the Chase and the important role it plays for access for local people."

"The panel expect to publish a progress report of their findings towards the end of November."

Students earn gold awards

DUKE of Edinburgh students from a Hednesford college have completed their summer expeditions achieving their bronze and gold awards.

Year 10 pupils at Kingsmead Technology College successfully passed their bronze two day expedition while the sixth form group all took their last steps to completing their final 45-mile trek.

The awards comprise of a range of team building activities and intensive training along planned routes all over the country.

The sixth form students from across the BKN Consortium at the college, were split into two groups, and completed their training over three weekends.

Both teams successfully passed all of their gold assessments.

Their success follows two more hard-working students who recently received their gold award at St James' Palace in London.

Happy for Helen to carry on boring us

YOUR correspondent "Bored with Helen of Hedsford" may well be bored with Helen's letters, but Helen still has a valid point to make when she writes about the freeze on electricity prices in France and Germany, and complains about Tory governments in Britain.

The reason why the French and German governments can consider a price freeze is that in France, electricity is mainly from nuclear power, and in Germany there is a local brown coal mining industry which supplies a substantial share of electricity, along with a lot of wind power.

None of these sources of power are affected by the price of oil and natural gas. In contrast, the Thatcher Government almost abolished the British coal industry, and instigated a 'dash for gas' which made our electricity industry highly dependent on natural gas.

Now that North Sea and Morecambe Bay reserves of gas are being exhausted, at least substantially because of the demands of power stations, we are increasingly dependent on imports of gas, whose price is directly tied to the price of oil.

More power to Helen's word processor. I hope she continues to bore us with her anti-Tory campaigns.

Tuition fees will drive our graduates abroad

IT'S amazing what you find out about your MPs after they get voted into office. Ours has voted for increasing the rate of VAT, for more EU integration, for automatic enrolment in occupational pensions, and for raising the university tuition fee cap to £9,000 per year. He also voted against a smoking ban.

The VAT increase is destroying the economy, more EU integration will cost us billions of pounds more.

Occupational pensions only the very rich will be able to afford, the tuition fees will drive graduates abroad – and he voted against a smoking ban because of his association with Japanese Tobacco International, which he declares in his list of gifts, benefits and hospitality (UK). If we had known this, would we really have given him the most treasured of things – our vote?

Shoebox plea is made by church

THIS year St. Anne's Church will be supporting the Christmas Shoebox Appeal organised by the Christian charity International Aid Trust. This is our opportunity to share our Christian love with those less fortunate than ourselves.

St. Anne's is a collecting point for shoeboxes and people are asked to bring them to St. Anne's Church on Sunday November 6 at the 10.15am service.

If you cannot come to St. Anne's on November 6 with your shoebox, please contact Brian or Sue Golding through the parish office on 01543 686111 to arrange collection.

It's a sad person who dislikes cats and dogs

WHAT a sad person who doesn't like cats or dogs. They must have a sad life. We have two dogs who are walked up to four times a day, never have they fouled on the paths.

Most people, if they are true dog lovers, would let their dogs foul only on the fields. We live near a school and I've hardly seen any foul on the paths. As for cats, if people bought a cat repellent they wouldn't have this problem. This person should report any dog owners who let their dogs foul near a school. I think this person is very sad.

Question is raised on use of fireworks

AS residents of Cannock, of course we do need to support fundraising initiatives such as the Lotto if we want to see Christmas lights and festivities in our town.

I would, however, like to ask what happened to fireworks purchased for 2010?

I along with many others waited in the town centre and were disappointed when word filtered through – no public announcement having been made – that the fireworks were not to be lit.

As a Cannock resident I am unaware of the fireworks being used at any other event, and if this is the case why can't they be used this year or if they were returned the supplier, what has happened to the funds?

Sum raised from Co-Op collection

I WOULD like to say thank you to the staff for their co-operation and all the people who so kindly donated to our fundraising collection for Cancer Research UK, held at the Co-Operative store, Lichfield, on September 24.

The total amount raised was £265.73. The money will be put on our Just Giving website and takes our total raised so far to £1,250.73. We are aiming to raise £10,000 by the year 2014 when my daughter Ellen and her friend Lee will be attempting to swim the English Channel.

If anyone wishes to follow our progress or make a donation they can do so by visiting the site at www.justgiving.com/ellenlee. Thank you.

Plug back in as dam repairs completed

CHASEWATER reservoir has begun to refill after £5.5m repair work was completed on the dam.

It is hoped to be fully filled by the summer of 2013.

The reservoir at the heart of Chasewater Country Park was drained early last year amid concerns for the safety of its earth dam which dates back to 1797. The dam was leaking and putting nearby homes in danger.

Major engineering work was started by Lichfield District Council, but proved a bigger challenge than anticipated and was taken over in May by Staffordshire County Council.

The original role of the reservoir was to regulate water in the Midlands canal network – in times of drought water would be drawn from the reservoir to ensure economically vital canals were still deep enough to navigate. Councillor Mark Winnington, Staffordshire County Council's cabinet member for environment and assets, said: "This has been a major engineering project that has been carried through to a swift and successful conclusion by the county council. I am now delighted to be able to confirm that the plug is back in and the reservoir will start to refill naturally with water.

"We now have a much better understanding of the dam," he added.

"Overflow precautions have been improved to safeguard nearby residents in the event of severe flooding, and we will be able to monitor the condition of the dam much more closely in the future.

"The drawdown culvert – the equivalent of the plughole in a bath – was located and inspected for the first time in over 200 years. Vital improvements have now been made.

Monitored

"A mystery brick-built chamber that does not appear on any plans was also discovered inside the dam, and will now be used as part of our monitoring procedures," said Councillor Winnington.

Water does seep through the dam, but this is perfectly normal and acceptable as long as it is carefully monitored to spot potential safety concerns.

Chasewater covers 266 acres and holds approximately 3.7 million cubic metres of water when full.

Ramblers in seven-miler

An easy seven-mile walk at Barton-under-Needwood is the latest offering by the Chase & District Group Ramblers.

Walkers should meet at Hednesford Bus station car park, in Victoria Street on Sunday (October 16).

Departure time is 9am prompt and the walk leader is Paul on 01543 305890.

Ex-cook's recipe for success

A FORMER cook at a Hednesford school has found the recipe for a new career after nearly 30 years in the kitchen.

Ann Godfrey started her long school career at William Baxter School, in Stanley Road, as a cook in 1983. The 67-year-old from Cannock decided she fancied a change and landed a new role at another nearby school in 2006.

Ann became a lunchtime supervisor in at Hednesford Valley High where she has remained ever since.

She was encouraged by her colleagues to take the Support Worker in School qualification and her hard work and determination has now allowed her to work as a teaching assistant to support teaching and learning across the school.

Deputy head Anne Tracey organises the professional development for staff at the school. She said: "Ann is an inspirational person who models life-long learning. Because she wants the best for the students she has taken up qualifications to enable them to achieve and succeed."

Rita Godfrey celebrates after changing roles from kitchen assistant at Hednesford Valley High Olivia Budinger, aged 12, and deputy head Anne Tracey

Hundreds turn out for charity race at Shugborough

The Katharine House Hospice charity also held a 5k race at last Sunday's event (October 9) at the country estate with entrants including the Stafford MP Jeremy Lefroy.

For those wanting a bit more fun, there was also the chance to dress up as super-heroes for the day.

Katharine House Hospice event fundraiser James Lunney said: "The weather was great for the event and it was well-supported."

"There were about 200 runners taking part in both events. Although this was less than last year, we're pleased."

Support

"In last year's race, Stafford and Stone Sports Partnership brought along a lot of runners, but I know this year they've had budget cuts."

"We're really pleased with this event and the money raised for charity."

Sunday's event was sponsored by Stafford Railway Building Society.

Katharine House Hospice, based at Weston Road in Stafford, provides free care and support for adults and their families across Mid-Staffordshire coping with a progressive illness.

The charity is totally reliant upon donations to help generate 75 per cent of funds needed to run its range of services.

Expansion on the horizon for leading window firm

ENERGY Seal, in Planetary Road, Wednesfield, has a 20-strong workforce, striving to be the very best at what they do in all aspects of the industry.

And despite the shrinking economy, the local company has grown to become one of the leading manufacturers of uPVC windows, doors and conservatories in the West Midlands - so much so that the company is looking to expand in the near future, creating more jobs.

This dedication to quality begins with excellent manufacturing of their window system, through to excellent customer service.

Family-run

The company is a family-run business with two brothers, David and Richard Carter, at the helm. Director of sales, David, says: "We aim to give our customers the very best service the industry can offer."

Through being involved directly with sales, we can develop a special relationship with customers the second their phone rings. Then, when our customers become confident they are buying their windows, doors or conservatories off the right company, we then get the project underway.

Starting with a free technical survey of the work being carried out, we then project-manage everything from that point on.

In our conservatories range we have many different options for our customers. "We provide the finished article, starting with the base, brickwork, erecting the uPVC frames

Sales receptionist Zoe Carter is always happy to meet and greet existing and new customers in the modern showroom and roof, right down to fitting electrics, tiling the floor and fitting vertical blinds.

"In our showroom, we have six full-sized conservatories fully-fitted with fixtures and fittings to show our customers exactly what they're buying. "Energyseal is also looking to create more jobs in the local area."

Richard, trade director, adds: "When we started manufacturing, we had three employees. Three years on we now employ 10 fabricators, two fitting teams and six office staff."

"We are always looking to expand our business so we can create new jobs for local people. Because we offer such an excellent service, most of our work comes from recommendations so this gives us the opportunity to grow. We also supply to the trade industry."

"If you are interested in buying any of our extensive range of windows, doors or conservatories, call us on 01902 866000 and one of our friendly advisers will be happy to help with your enquiry."

"Alternatively, pop into our showroom for a free no obligation quote."

Jane Carter, operations manager, looks out over the vastly expanding uPVC company

Jobseekers and businesses praised over events Employment fairs are hailed a success by MP

Karen Miles, Star4 Africa, with pupils, 1 to r: Joshua Hewitt, aged eight, Jack Jeavons, seven and Brooke Leach, eight

Foreign culture all boxed up for pupils

A CANNOCK school received a box from a twin school in Africa giving an insight into education on a foreign continent.

Bridgton Primary, in North Street, formed links with the Teacher Adam Memorial School, in Ghana, in June and pupils and staff at the school have been going through the box.

Amanda Beard, the school's international link co-ordinator, said: "Our partnered school have sent us things that represent their lives and culture. We will be putting together a box of things to send back to them."

The box contained a flag, artwork and an information book showing what life is like at an African school.

Mrs Beard said the school got involved when STAR4Africa a UK registered charity dedicated to providing opportunities and support to children in isolated communities, got in touch with the school.

The charity focuses most of its work in Ghana, Kenya, Malawi and Zambia.

CANNOCK Chase MP Aidan Burley has praised businesses and work seekers across the district for helping make two jobs fairs a success.

More than 600 people attended the two fairs held at South Staffordshire College in Cannock and the Rose Theatre, in Taylors Lane, Rugeley.

The MP organised the jobs fairs, offering people the chance to meet potential employers and network with businesses who are, or who will soon be, looking to recruit.

As well as meeting potential employers, people also had the opportunity to attend a number of free seminars and workshops aimed at improving their employability skills. Nicola Causer, aged 25, from Cannock, has been searching for a job since April and despite sending out 90 CVs, has not had much luck.

She said: "I have never been to a jobs fair before but this one seemed really good."

Signed

"I gave three of my CVs out and also filled out an application form."

Mr Burley said: "I would like thank all the businesses and jobseekers for getting involved in these two job fairs. At the beginning of this process I was clear that if we could help one person find employment then the fairs would be worthwhile."

If you've been coughing for 3 weeks, it might not be 'only a cough', so tell your doctor.

Everyone gets a cough now and again, but if you've had one for over three weeks you should see your doctor. Coughing could be a sign of lung cancer. Of course, in the vast majority of cases it won't be serious. But if there is something wrong, finding it early means it's more likely to be treatable, so tell your doctor.

Bar owner in bid to reopen town's motel

A HEDNESFORD motel that was closed down two years ago is set to open up again after a revamp.

Andy Wood, who owns and runs Woody's Music Bar, in Uxbridge Street, has recently taken on the lease of the nearby Uxbridge Motel.

Mr Wood is busy making improvements to the motel, which has been shut for more than a year. But the 41-year-old has bought the building and says he plans to start letting out rooms again in around three weeks' time.

Along with his plans for the motel, Mr Wood is looking to spend around £20,000 creating a new space for a café, laundrette and a shop, which will stock retro clothes.

Mr Wood has handed his plans to Cannock Chase Council and needs planning chiefs to approve his application for a change of use.

Work has already started on the internal refurbishment, but the scale of the building will remain unaltered.

Mr Wood says he hopes the proposal will create four jobs for people in Hednesford and other ideas for the site include a space for music lessons.

Pitch plan approved

PLANS for a £500,000 community football pitch in Cannock have been approved – despite concerns about floodlights from residents and astronomers.

The pitch at Cardinal Griffin RC High School was given the go-ahead by Cannock Chase Council's planning committee.

Users will be able to have floodlights on until 10pm on any night of the week. Local residents claim the 50ft lights would impact on their homes, while users of Cannock Civic Observatory say it will affect the view of the night sky.

The school said it would lose its main funding if the new pitch did not operate later into the evening.

He said: "There's also an idea to have a recording studio, but I'm not sure about the sound proofing at the moment."

There would be no change to the general appearance of the building and Mr Wood says there will be no change to parking.

In April, Mr Wood, who plays guitar with local band Marquis Drive, revamped The Uxbridge Arms as Woody's Music Bar.

The 130-year-old pub closed in June 2010 after an unsuccessful attempt to make it a live music venue.

The pub was being run by ex-professional boxer Craig Clayton who made it open plan and put in a stage. Among the musicians to have performed there were former Oasis guitarist Bonehead, Jim Bob Morrison from Carter USM, Miles Hunt from The Wonder Stuff and Tom Hingley from Inspiral Carpets.

Ron digs deep to win garden prize

A KEEN gardener at a Cannock residential home has been given an award for his horticultural skills. Vine Court, in Earlswood Way, decided to organise a Bloom Award to celebrate the efforts of gardening enthusiasts residents which live at the home.

Steve Hallett, general manager of the Hollybush Garden Centre, in Waterstone Road, Shareshill, was invited by Vine Court's education and leisure officer David Payne to judge the contest. Ron Arrowsmith, aged 78, who has been at Vine Court for the past year, was the winner.

Free Wakes gig dropped

A FREE concert showcasing local bands has been dropped from the Burntwood Wakes programme.

The Wakes Unsigned night has kicked off the summer festival for the past two years at Burntwood Rugby Club. The Town Council's Wakes review committee is looking at another form of entertainment for next year.

Mr Payne said Mr Arrowsmith was delighted to win the award which recognised his hard work.

He said: "He's in charge of our communal garden area and looks after the hanging baskets."

Ron's prize was a £25 gardening voucher. Mr Payne said Vine Court regularly hosted competitions to recognise residents' hard work and hobbies.

"We recently had a poetry competition, where everyone had to submit a poem," added Mr Payne.

Vine Court in Bloom winner Ron Arrowsmith, aged 78, receives his vouchers from Hollybush Garden Centre from general manager Steve Hallett, 44.

Town lotto fears as trade group in limbo

HEDNESFORD'S troubled lottery scheme town may be scrapped for good, putting future community events in jeopardy.

Hednesford's Shop Local Lottery scheme was halted for a month in May due to poor ticket sales, but the scheme was resurrected and back up and running in June.

However, the ex vice-chairman of Hednesford Traders' Association, Linda Whitehouse, revealed it may now stop for good. She said the draw on Saturday, October 1, could have been the last. But, rather than poor ticket sales, she said the Lotto was in jeopardy because the traders' association was currently in limbo.

This means less money being ploughed into a community cash pot, giving traders less cash to spend on community events.

Disbanded

The organisation was scrapped in the summer after arguments broke out about how the group was being run.

Mrs Whitehouse said it was disbanded when it was discovered that it did not have a legal constitution.

She is also said to have organised an annual meeting without giving 21 days' notice - a legal requirement - which angered some town businessmen and women.

Traders agreed at a recent meeting to form an association from scratch. However, nobody has stepped forward to fill the unpaid positions of chairman, vice-chairman, secretary and treasurer.

Mrs Whitehouse says she wants to see this resolved by the end of the month, so matters, like the lottery, can be looked at and discussed.

She said: "We've had to withdraw the tickets this month and if people do not get involved in this, it puts future events in jeopardy."

Youngsters get in a lather to raise cash

L to r: Matty McLean, Alistair McLean, Amanda Lockett and Ryan Welch give the carwash a thumbs up

FOUR Rugeley youngsters got into a lather, but raised more than £100 in a charity carwash for Midlands Air Ambulance.

Alistair McLean, aged 14 and his brother Matty, 12, set up the carwash at Haywood Garage, in Little Haywood with their friends Ryan Welch, 12, and 10-year-old Amanda Lockett.

Sales consultant Chris Sergeant allowed the youngsters to clean all the cars at the garage, as well as passing vehicles, before letting them sit in a range of top motors worth tens of thousands of pounds. In the past the four-some have completed bag packing challenges in supermarkets, hosted tombola stalls and collected at Hednesford Town football ground.

It was during a bag pack at Morrisons earlier this year that an elderly couple from Uttroter approached Matty and asked for his address to send a donation.

Within two weeks Mr and Mrs Hodgkinson, who had used the Air Ambulance in the past, handed over a tin of coins worth £33.52.

The kind-hearted youngsters presented them with a certificate thanking them for their generosity.

Mum Jenny McLean, of Hill Street, said: "The carwash was a lovely experience for all of them and it was a great pleasure to see them doing something for such a worthy cause."

Proud

"We can't thank the elderly couple enough for their donation; it is great to see them rewarding the youngsters like this especially at a time when the younger generation are getting a huge amount of bad press."

"Over the past two years they have done so well and I am really proud of all of them."

Since it started fundraising the group has so far raised £2,500 and is currently hosting a raffle in Barclays Bank, in Brook Square, to collect even more cash in time for the festive season.

Tickets are £1 a strip and will be available until December 2 when the winners of 20 prizes, donated by local businesses, will be announced.

School quiz night to curry favour

A CURRY and quiz night is being held in Rugeley to raise funds for new outdoor educational equipment.

Chancel Primary School's parents, teachers and friends association is hosting the event at the Wolseley Road school next Wednesday, October 19 at 7.30pm.

Deputy head Tina Blankley said the nearby Raj Bari restaurant was providing the food for the event at a special rate.

"The curry night and quiz is for adults and is also intended to get parents to mix and have a fun night out while raising money," she said.

Local quizmaster Colin Gardener is setting the questions. The quiz will be for teams of four and tickets are £7.50, available from the school reception.

The PTF raised £2,200 from its summer fair and balloon race in July. The winning balloon travelled 342 miles to Belgium.

Give a dog a home is the plea by ladies

TWO animal lovers who rescue dogs from across Rugeley are seeking a home for another four-legged friend. Ruth Dewis and Pauline Roberts are looking to re-house Toby, a seven-year-old Jack Russell, as his current owners can no longer give the time to care for him.

Members give talks

THE Landor (Local History) Society in Rugeley is holding a members' evening next Wednesday (October 19).

Members have been invited to give 10 minute talks on subjects of their choice at the meeting in The Sneydlands, Bryans Lane at 7.30pm.

The society, which was founded in 1953, has more than 60 members.

He was rescued as a puppy from a shelter and is thought to have been mistreated but he is energetic and playful.

Ruth, who recently helped relocate three more dogs after they featured in The Chronicle, said: "Toby makes friends well although is slightly wary of strangers."

"He would suit a home with older children and prefer to be the only dog; he would make a lovely companion."

Toby has all his injections and is micro-chipped. Call Ruth on 07900 090093 or Pauline on 07971 817877.

Extended season at campsite approved

CAMPERS can spend Christmas and New Year on a site near Rugeley after plans to extend its season were approved.

The camping and caravan site, called The Old Youth Hostel, based in Wandon, can now operate from February 16 until the following January 5.

Currently it operates only from March to the end of October.

Some local councillors had raised concerns about the Cannock Chase Camping and Caravan Club site wanting to operate throughout Christmas and New Year.

The application also featured a new play area and site entrance. Councillors deferred the application last month so the officers could gather more information.

The club had already withdrawn a proposal to use the site for caravan storage which would have been against green belt policy.

Planning services manager John Heminsley said the club wanted to extend its season because of a high level of demand.

The application was passed despite some councillors raising concerns.

Councillor Bob Todd said he feared that it could lead to caravans being there all year round.

Councillor Ray Easton said he had no objections to the play area and improvements to the roads but was against extending the season.

Problem

Councillor John Burnett said it would add to the over-use of Cannock Chase and cause a loss of wildlife. He said: "The different uses of the Chase have snowballed out of control."

"Some species of wildlife have been lost from the Chase, and deer have become a problem on the roads because they have no safe habitat left with too many people using the Chase."

Jon Dale, spokesman for the Camping and Caravan Club said the organisation is delighted by the decision.

He said: "We're very pleased the council has got on board and we are pleased that we can get on with improving the site."

"It should provide a better all-around experience and we will be getting on with it as soon as possible."

Activities

There will also be an introduction to holiday club activities with programmes set by Melissa Hughes, a football coach, who has played for England Ladies under-16s and under-17s and Aston Villa and Wolves Ladies.

Visitors will also be able to meet the Little Graduates team and find out about all the activities including games and art and crafts available for the children.

Little Graduates is taking on children for its October intake with the office open every day from 9.30am to 6.30pm on 01889 802232.

Annual festive fair to aid good causes

ST Augustine's Church in Rugeley is holding its third annual Christmas fair next month.

The event is being held at the Station Road church to help local charities on November 19. The fair will begin at 10am and run through to 2pm.

Any local charity wishing to take part in the event should contact Joan Surplice on 01889 800465 to book one of the tables which cost £5.

GREAT NEWS FOR THE OVER 40s

NEW EXERCISE CENTRE OPEN IN CANNOCK

Our exercise centres are an exciting concept in the battle against ageing. Improved joint mobility and posture, better digestion and sleep patterns, weight loss, figure improvement and increased energy levels, are just some of the benefits reported by hundreds of satisfied clients.

Steve is the manager of Cannock and we took the opportunity to speak to him to find out more about the success story.

WHY ARE YOUR CENTRES AIMED SPECIFICALLY AT THE OVER 40 AGE GROUP?

Steve "Younger people are already quite well catered for. There are plenty of health clubs and gymnasiums, aerobics classes, etc. In my experience, however, older people find those facilities intimidating. They are full of young, fit bodied people. The staff are very young too.

"I felt that it was time we over 40s had a place of our own to keep in shape. We want to exercise as much as younger people, but we don't feel the need to train like an athlete. We want equipment that is simple to use, even if we are overweight or suffer from arthritis or low back pain. We want instructors that understand our capabilities and facilities that are a little more luxurious and friendly than a typical health club. What we don't want is blaring pop music. We want a facility that provides the opportunity to relax and socialise. Our clients tell us we have got it just right."

HOW DID YOU COME TO INVENT MOTORISED EXERCISE, AND WHAT IS IT EXACTLY?

Steve "Motorised exercise is the name of the exercise system used in each centre. There are ten motorised exercise machines and they are motorised to make exercise easy and enjoyable. Each machine is a luxurious armchair and has a different function. It takes just 30 minutes to use them all, by which time the whole body has been exercised.

"Motorised exercise, is fun. However poor a beginner's condition may be, and regardless of age, anyone can cope with motorised exercise."

DO I HAVE TO PROVE THAT I AM 40 PLUS?

Steve "No, we have plenty of under 40s using our centres. We appeal to anyone that wants a gentler way of getting into shape, regardless of their age. But we do tend to attract the over 40s in very large numbers at our centres.

"That is hardly surprising, is it, as half the population is now in that age bracket. What pleases me is that we are attracting many clients in their 50s, 60s, 70s and 80s too."

CAN MOTORISED EXERCISE REALLY SLOW DOWN AGEING?

Steve "Motorised exercise can increase fitness, joint mobility and muscular strength by about 20 percent. Energy levels are substantially increased. Body fat is reduced. Muscle loss is retarded. The risk of high blood pressure, heart disease, stroke and thrombosis are reduced. In my book, this adds up to a serious fight back against the ageing process."

IS FIGURE IMPROVEMENT AND WEIGHT LOSS REALLY IMPORTANT?

Steve "Average inch loss in the first 12 to 15 weeks can often exceed a full dress size even when no weight loss is involved.

"Unlike toning tables or conventional resistance machines, motorised exercise allows you to exercise aerobically and to burn fat. Overweight clients follow our unique weight loss plan that guarantees most clients a minimum of half a stone per month reduction. The combination of muscle toning and weight loss make motorised exercise the most effective figure improvement programme ever devised."

YOUR CENTRES SEEM VERY RELAXING. IS THIS DELIBERATE?

Steve "We live in a stress-filled environment and I wanted to create a facility where people could relax, unwind and socialise. Our centre is somewhere to nurture the mind as well as the body. A holistic centre in every sense of the word.

"The decor and furnishings, the lighting and even the background music have been carefully selected to create the right ambience. Centres are heated and air conditioned to create the perfect environment all year round."

HOW SAFE IS MOTORISED EXERCISE?

Steve "Great care has been taken with the design of motorised exercise machines. The back is fully supported at all times and joints are mobilised throughout a safe functional range. Motorised exercise is already helping a lot of people increase their mobility."

HOW OFTEN SHOULD PEOPLE ATTEND AND HOW MUCH DOES IT COST?

Steve "To achieve maximum benefit, should attend two or three times per week, anyone interested should call and arrange a Free Guest Visit for you and a friend."

We took up the invitation to visit other centres and talked with their customers. These comments are typical of what most had to say

Carol Woodward: "I am losing inches in all the right places and never knew exercise could be this much fun."

June Lees: "More energy. Lost inches. Very friendly staff and customers."

Lynne Chambers: "All of my aches and pains have gone. Mobility is much better."

Mary Baker: "I now feel aches, mentally and physically."

B. Whalley: "Really enjoy my visits. Machines are brilliant. Friendly and helpful staff, very relaxing."

Thelma Drakeford: "I feel fitter, less stressed and have lost inches. Facilities and service could not be improved."

Nicola bites back

NEW ALBUMS

Nicola Roberts - Cinderella's Eyes
They say it is the quiet ones you have to watch... and so it is with the porcelain-skinned red head from Girls Aloud. She finds her voice and how in this solo debut, using her quirky songs to attack those who dubbed her the band's "rude ginger bch" in the outspoken Take A Bite. She gives bullying a more tender meditation on the closing Sticks + Stones. Her voice is light to the point of shrill but this remains a far more interesting album than those made by Cheryl Cole or Nadine Coyne.
Listen if you like: Ellie Goulding, Sophie Ellis-Bextor, Janelle Monae.

Christina Perri - Lovestrong
Debut album from a sweet-voiced young American singer-songwriter with a folk/country lilt to her voice. The former Beverly Hills cafe manager has had a big hit on both sides of the Atlantic with Jar Of Hearts, a great put-down ballad, but can rock things too, such as on Bang Bang Bang.
Listen if you like: Taylor Swift, KT Tunstall, Sandi Thom.

The Duke Spirit - Bruiser
The third album from the London rock band fronted by the feisty blonde bombshell Liela Moss pushes all the right buttons, rocking up a storm and swirling with a goth cloaked swagger. Villain has the potential to be the breakthrough hit that they need to take them into the premier league of British bands. However, most of the songs diminish after the initial impact and don't stick in the cranium.
Listen if you like: Florence and the Machine, Jefferson Airplane, Curve.

Red Hot Chili Peppers - I'm With You
A typically sprawling, swaggering all-over-the-place album from the Peppers. But ace producer Rick Rubin has whipped them into some sort of shape for their return to recording after five years and, perhaps due to the absence of guitarist John Frusciante, Flea's funky bass is to the fore.
Singer Anthony Kiedis is still a great frontman but his lyrics remain, for the most part, baffling and as hard to pin down as the band's blend of hard rock, funk, psychedelic, punk, rap and even disco. When it hits the spot - like the heart-felt Brendan's Death Song, honky tonk piano-based Happiness Loves Company and the loose, lean and lithe Goodbye Hooray - it's good stuff but it doesn't hit the spot often enough.
Listen if you like: Foo Fighters, Pearl Jam, Frank Zappa.

Feist - Metals
Atmospheric and intimate, quirky and bohemian, Canadian singer-songwriter Leslie Feist makes distinctive songs with strong appeal whilst not playing by the usual pop rules. Her earlier songs Mushaboom and 1234 crept into the consciousness of listeners via their use in adverts. She casts a similar spell here with songs such as Graveyard, Bittersweet Melodies and Comfort Me.
Listen if you like: Tori Amos, Bjork.

The Overtones - Good Ol' Fashioned Love, Platinum Edition
The painters and decorators turned crooners mark

350,000 copies sold of their 12-track debut album with a 15-track version including new single Second Last Chance.

The five-piece doo wop style outfit have also added cover versions of Rihanna's Only Girl In The World, Adele's Rolling In The Deep and The Four Seasons' Beggin'.

Listen if you like: The Baseballs, Billy Joel.

Switchfoot - Vice Verses
Being described as Christian rockers probably does American outfit Switchfoot few favours. But if you didn't know that before you heard Vice Verses you would probably just find it refreshing to hear a hard rock outfit who prefer a positive message to reveling in darkness. But most rock fans like a bit of darkness so Switchfoot are unlikely to reach as many of the baggy shorts wearing, tattooed and pierced music fans as their meaty stadium rock anthems, like Blinding Light, otherwise would.
Listen if you like: U2, Red Hot Chili Peppers.

Ladytron - Gravity The Seducer
The synth popsters from Merseyside return with a light and airy version of their melodic machine music, the tone set by the snowflake prettiness of White Elephant, echoey female vocal over icy virtual harpsichord and muted horns. Other highlights include the groovy Ace Of Hz and the dramatic Ambulances but Ladytron remain too locked into their retro synth worship to widen their appeal to the kids who bought Little Boots or Le Roux.
Listen if you like: Air, Stereolab, OMD.

Emily Barker and The Red Clay Halo - Almanac
A third album of pleasantly woolly folk-pop, emphasis on the folk, from a Australian artist much liked by television producers, as songs from earlier albums have been used as themes to the dramas Wollander and The Shadow Line.
Listen if you like: Feist, Mumford & Sons, Vashti Bunyan.

Matilda The Musical - Original Cast Recording
Tim Minchin's songs from the Royal Shakespeare Company's hit family show of last festive season at Stratford-upon-Avon get a welcome release just prior to the show's West End opening at the Cambridge Theatre. The frizzy-hair Aussie created songs with plenty of wit and more than a little poignancy for the stage production of Roald Dahl's story about a put-upon child genius who gets her revenge on a terrifying headmistress.

The cast's whole-hearted performance means you get a real sense of the show's joyful blend of absurdity and social comment. The kids aren't just alright, they're great and this is the best new British-made musical since the 20th Century.

Rewards for loyal customers in store

Nicola Perry, a volunteer at the Salvation Army shop in Rugeley, with some of the reward cards

A RUGELEY charity shop has launched a customer loyalty card scheme.

The card will give people shopping or donating to the Salvation Army Trading Company's shop in Market Square a chance to build up credit to spend inside.

The 'reward' is a free, double-sided card that rewards customers each time they spend £5 in the shop or donate their unwanted items using one of the shop's reusable re-bags.

Each time a customer spends £5 in store one side of their card, entitled re:visit, will be stamped, with 10 stamps entitling customers to a £5 credit to spend in store.

On the other side of the card is the reward scheme for donations to the store, which works in conjunction with a re:bag - a reusable black, white and red bag that can be bought in-store for 99p.

Redeem

Each time a re:bag is brought into the store full of donations, a stamp to the value of £2 will be given, replacing the current system of issuing £2 vouchers.

The customer can redeem their £2 stamp straight away, or save up the stamps to spend together, with each card having space for up to five re:bag credits.

Profit from Salvation Army Trading Company Ltd's shops is gift aided to The Salvation Army to help fund its work throughout the UK such as homelessness services, elderly care, family tracing and support at emergency incidents.

Arresting tour of police station

TWO PCSOs and a Pc helped a group of Brownies with their enquiries.

The girls, aged seven to 10, were from the 12th Rugeley Brownie pack and spent around two hours being given a tour of Rugeley police station by PCSOs Liz Dale and Sue Hughes and Pc Paul Bradbury of Cannock Chase Local Policing Team.

The girls were treated to an arresting tour of the custody block as well as being given an opportunity to examine all the equipment in a police vehicle. They also investigated the procedures involved in fingerprinting.

PCSO Dale said: "The idea for the visit came after I went and spoke to the Brownies last April about my work. As a PCSO, part of my role is to get involved with community groups and activities.

"The Brownies meet every Tuesday during term-time and they get involved in a variety of activities.

Fingerprinting

"They thoroughly enjoyed their evening with us and seemed to get a lot out of their behind the scenes tour. I think the fingerprinting was the biggest hit of the night."

Any youngsters interested in joining the 12th Rugeley Brownie pack should contact PCSO Liz Dale on 07800 765641 or Becky Murphy on 07505 809153 for details.

Theatre dates for the original Calendar Girls

Tricia Stewart

A LUCKY 13 years ago, a group of women from a Women's Institute in Yorkshire posed for an alternative WI calendar. Not even they could have imagined the success it has achieved.

Principally made to raise money for leukaemia and lymphoma research, the 2000 calendar sold more than 90,000 copies, was turned into a hit film starring the likes of Helen Mirren and Julie Walters – and has also spawned a stage show that has toured not only nationally, but across Europe and the rest of the world. It is currently on show in New Zealand. Now, four of the real-life Calendar Girls tell their story to audiences in Cannock. Tricia Stewart, who originally thought up the idea, and was the inaugural Miss October, will be joined on stage at the Prince of Wales Centre by Miss February Angela Baker and Miss January Beryl Banforth next Monday night (October 17). Miss September Christine Clancy will join the three of them at the Church Street centre the following evening.

It was the tragic loss of Angela Baker's husband John from non-Hodgkin's lymphoma which inspired Tricia and her friends to make the first nude calendar. It was hoped the woman would raise enough money to buy a sofa for the local hospital where John was treated. Further calendars have followed including a recipe calendar in 2008 and a 10th anniversary special two years later.

They have stripped off again for a 2012 calendar and have raised more than £3m in the process.

Special

They still give talks and sell merchandise from their online shop – and even acted as advisers to the hit movie. Their Audience with... nights, which sees the ladies telling their story and fielding questions from the audience, have already received a popular response in Bursley and Richmond.

Speaking to The Chronicle this week ahead of the dates in Cannock, Tricia, now aged 62, said she couldn't believe how it had all taken off.

"It's amazing how it has all gone really," said Tricia. "I had no inhibitions when I first did it because I knew it was all for a good cause, though I know some of the others did."

The ladies are all, quite rightly, proud of their achievements, and at the moment, they show no signs of slowing down, though Tricia added: "Maybe when the stage show comes to an end next year, that will be it."

Shows start at 7.30pm next Monday and Tuesday. Tickets are £11 with all profits going to Leukaemia Research. Call Bob Williams on 01543 670791.

The Beatles Experience recreate the look and sounds of the original Fab Four and are at the Garrick tonight

Something in the way they play...

BEATLES fans are in for a treat tonight (Thursday) when celebrated tribute act The Beatles Experience come to the Lichfield Garrick. The four-piece attempt to combine the look, style, persona and professional musicianship of the Fab Four and have wowed theatre audiences around the world.

They were the chosen band for the launch of the Beatles Rock Band game in 2009, while in 2010 they played to an estimated 250,000 people and are on course to beat that number in 2011.

A spokesman for the Lichfield Garrick said: "To see The Beatles Experience is to witness a performance of four energetic young men, four world class musicians and four unique individuals coming together in a performance of a lifetime."

Call 01543 412121 or visit www.lichfieldgarrick.com to check on the availability of tickets - which cost £18.75.

Players go back to school for Reunion

Award-winning play based on true story

A UNIQUE theatre experience is on offer in Hednesford next week when the line between actors and the audience will become somewhat blurred.

Drama group Tower Players will perform Reunion, a play about a group of thirty-somethings at a school reunion, at the former Blake Valley school - now known as Staffordshire University Academy.

It will not take place on a stage, but in a large classroom with the audience seated all around the actors and very close to the action.

Two of the cast - Alan Walsgrove and Tom Allsopp - are old Blake pupils while former deputy head Madeline Richards and teachers Lynne Moseley and Jacqui Goodacre are key members of the Tower production team.

The play tells the story of five ex-pupils who have not met one another since they left school nearly 20 years earlier. During the course of the evening, they are each forced to take a close look at themselves and face up to their shortcomings and failures.

A spokesman for Tower Players said: "If you were a student at Blake, this is your chance to enjoy a really unusual night of drama and maybe to meet up with some of your old schoolmates at the same time."

"Even if you didn't attend Blake, you are guaranteed an experience which will resonate with anyone who remembers their schooldays with a mixture of pain and pleasure and their schoolmates with a mixture of love and loathing."

Reunion takes place at Staffordshire University Academy on Thursday 20 and Friday 21 October, with both shows starting at 7.30pm.

Tickets, which cost £6 for adults and £5 for concessions, can be booked by calling 01543 422300, 01543 502306 or 01543 577971.

Alternatively visit www.towerplayers.co.uk or pay on the door.

The show is aimed at adults only as it contains scenes of a sexual nature, simulated drug taking, violence and strong language.

FRESH from the Edinburgh Fringe Festival, Third Man Productions present Stalag Happy at the Lichfield Garrick on Saturday October 22.

The award-winning play is based on the true story of artists Sir Terry Frost and Adrian Heath, who are interned in the World War Two prisoner of war camp Stalag 383.

Their story is said to be portrayed through the use of sharp, comic, often touching dialogue, imaginative and inventive design and a suitably nostalgic 1940s soundtrack.

It is devised and performed by Edward Elks and Dan Frost, grandson of the late Sir Terry Frost.

A Garrick spokesman said: "Stalag Happy is a real-life tale of the human spirit's ability to find art and beauty in the most unlikely of conditions."

Tickets, at £12.50, can be booked at www.lichfieldgarrick.com or by calling the box office on 01543 412121.

Historic fare on the menu

HISTORICAL cookery and mayhem is on the menu when a popular duo return to the Lichfield Garrick.

Chef Simon Smith and historian Professor Roland Rotherham present their Historical Cookery Hall-louen Special on Friday October 21. The pair will journey across to Eastern Europe and produce a feast from the 15th century.

Tickets are £9.50. Visit www.lichfieldgarrick.com or call 01543 412121.

Elvis tribute in the building

AWARD-WINNING Elvis impersonator Rob Kingsley performs at the Lichfield Garrick next Friday night, October 21, from 7.30pm. His A Vision of Elvis tour features Kingsley's very own Cadillac Band, along with The Sweet Sensations.

LULU - SOMETHING TO SHOUT ABOUT

BBC2, 10.30pm
When Marie McDonald McLaughlin-Lawrie was in her teens, she knew she wanted to break into showbusiness. However, unlike many girls her age, she realised her dream within a few years. Diminutive in size but with a huge voice, she caught stage experience with The Bellbirds, and by 15 she cooed her first hit with a memorable cover of The Hollies' 'Laird's Song'. In 1965, Lulu, as she became known, was a star, and 46 years on she still one of the most enduring performers in the business. This documentary charts the singer's brilliant career.

Ripen those tomatoes

The weather may be mild now but the autumn frosts will soon be upon us so you may need to continue to ripen tomatoes indoors if necessary.

Trusses of green tomatoes can be cut and hung in an airy place such as a garage, shed, spare bedroom or even the kitchen to ripen. Alternatively, put them in a paper bag and stick them in an airy drawer to ripen. Individual green tomatoes can be put in a bowl next to a banana, which emits ethylene gas, which encourages the tomato to ripen.

There is one group of tomatoes known as long-keeper varieties, such as the Spanish 'De Colgar', which will ripen slowly after harvesting if kept in a cool, frost-free place. You'll have to be patient, though, because they can take three months to reach maturity.

To ripen tomatoes at this time of year, they may need to go indoors for a warm

New Redrow homes at Great Park, Rubery, are well insulated with double glazing and central heating included

Cheaper running costs of new buy

ACT fast and you could beat rising fuel bills this winter by moving to a brand new home in Rubery.

Industry regulator Ofgem estimates that the average annual dual fuel bill has risen from £1,150 last winter, to £1,345 this year – an increase of 17 per cent.

But as new Redrow homes at Great Park are among just one per cent of the nation's homes that achieve a 'B' rating for energy efficiency, those who make the switch from old to new, could find they actually save money on fuel bills.

Pauline Turnbull, sales director for Redrow Homes (Midlands), commented: "As the dark mornings and evenings set in, people are thinking about switching on their heating, but may be worried about just how much it's costing to keep warm."

"Buying a brand new home at Great Park in Rubery could be the key to keeping out the drafts and saving money."

"Research has shown that the average household could save more than £550 on energy bills by making the switch from an old home to a new one."

New homes are said to be 40 per cent more energy efficient than homes that are just 10 years old and 70 per cent more economical than properties built before 1990.

They consistently outperform the recommended minimum air-tightness standard which means they lose less heat and have fewer drafts.

Typical

Pauline added: "The cost of making an older property as energy efficient as one of our new homes soon mounts up. To install a new heating system, loft insulation and new windows in a typical three-bedroom home would set you back almost £10,000."

Current availability at Great Park includes a choice of four and five-bedroom homes, priced from £244,995.

They all boast Redrow's high specification interiors with convivial open plan layouts that put the kitchen at the heart of the home.

Kitchens are both practical and stylish and are well-equipped with integrated top brand name appliances including oven, microwave and fridge freezer, plus tall cabinets and extra wide drawers that offer plenty of storage.

Fitted wardrobes, built-in bookshelves, outside lights and under lighting to kitchen units are included in the standard specification; while bathrooms and en-suites boast quality fixtures and fittings, with a tile range that's exclusive to Redrow.

With part-exchange considered, customers with a home of their own to sell could find that making the transition from old to new is quicker and easier than they realised.

Close to the Great Park leisure and retail facilities, there's plenty to keep residents of the new Redrow homes at Great Park occupied. And with easy access to the M5, the development's well placed for commuting.

Two show homes are open daily for viewing, enabling potential purchasers to experience all that a brand new Redrow home has to offer.

Home of the future is more sci-fi than DIY

SHARKS in the swimming pool, a refrigerator which tells you what to eat and housework sorted at the touch of a button. It sounds out of this world, but will be coming soon to a home near you.

Technology has already transformed the way we work and communicate and now it's set to change the way we live, with innovative labour-saving kit becoming standard in luxury new homes.

Already the wealthy can enjoy touch-button control over all aspects of the home, from lighting, music, heating and appliances through to security.

The cost may currently put it beyond the reach of most of us, but the experts reckon that in years to come such hi-tech devices will become as familiar as power showers, electric garage doors and underfloor heating, which were virtually unheard of 25 years ago.

"Our appetite for technology grows all the time," says John Lees founder of Lees Associates, the company which created one of the newest and most unusual pieces of equipment, a shark-infested pool.

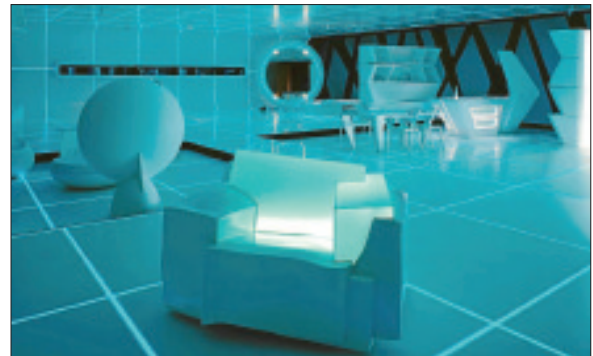

It superimposes images of the ocean predator seamlessly onto the floor and sides of a pool or gym while sensors ensure the sharks skim within apparent 'biting' distance of a swimmer.

"The system is perfect for those who want to enliven boring keep-fit sessions, is great fun for children and looks beautiful," says Lees.

"We can incorporate the Jaws soundtrack for added atmosphere. Dolphins are an alternative for those of a more nervous disposition."

Despite the scary price tag of around £150,000, it's perfect for those who want to impress – and for many that's just as important as enjoying effortless living.

Research shows our desire for

A spectacular space-age home setting by DuPont Corian, inspired by 2010's science fiction film, Disney's Tron: Legacy, exhibited at the popular Milan Furniture Fair

The rapid growth of technology coupled with a hunger for new gadgets is starting to revolutionise the way we run our homes. Gabrielle Fagan takes a peek inside a brave new domestic world gadgets and appliances has become insatiable. Mintel predicts a rise in sales of home technology kit from £49 billion in 2008 to £60 billion by 2014.

"People are constantly surprised at how fast technology is moving and what can now be achieved," says Matt Wayne, consultant designer at Finite Solutions, which has offices in Leeds and London.

"Nowadays, it's perfectly possible to completely control your home environment remotely from wherever you are in the world by touching a button on your smartphone."

"People want homes which automatically cater for their every need. So a client may want to return home to find the lights dimmed, a meal cooking, bath running and favourite music playing as soon as he steps inside his front door.

"All those functions can be a single 'mode' on his system which he activates by pressing a button on his smartphone while he's travelling back." Systems from Finite Solutions start at £30,000.

Many cutting-edge home appliances and up-to-the-minute technology have been on show this week (October 7-9) in The House of the Future at the Grand Designs Live Birmingham at the NEC.

Another glimpse into the not-so-distant future was recently provided by DuPont Corian whose spectacular space-age home, inspired by last year's science fiction film Tron: Legacy, was exhibited at the Milan Furniture Fair.

Bob Darke, managing director of electrical retailer Comet, predicts that energy-saving eco-technology will expand fastest, but that home entertainment developments will capture the most attention.

"In Japan there are already 'living walls' which transform into television screens, and where you can view your PC, store information and read books. Those will eventually arrive here," he says.

Graft away for a bumper crop

HIS year, amid all the hubbub of family life, I'm ashamed to say that I forgot about several plug plants which had been posted to me by Suttons, including the F1 tomato 'Conchita' and the F1 aubergine 'Scorpio' varieties.

They remained in their plastic delivery tubs far longer than they should have done and when I finally planted them into pots on my sheltered, sunny patio in June, they understandably looked somewhat forlorn.

However, in no time at all they perked up and, with a little TLC, all the plants have now given me plentiful crops, which is more than I can say for another tomato plant I bought from a nursery, planted out immediately and lovingly tended but which has succumbed to late blight.

Amazed at the harvest I received from the plants I first neglected, I discovered that they were all grafted plants. The growers select vigorous disease-resistant rootstocks and graft tasty varieties on top, removing the top of the tasty variety by hand, using a small blade to slice diagonally across the stem.

The strong rootstock of the second variety is then removed by the same process and the two plants are grafted together using a special clip, which drops off naturally as the plant grows.

I have found that the grafted plants I tested have been resilient enough to resist my initial neglect and avoid the late blight which has obliterated the fruits on my non-grafted plant.

Likewise, my grafted aubergine, which hasn't been fed as much as it might, has already produced half a dozen large fruits and more are coming.

Grafted tomato plants have been used by commercial growers for many years and available to home gardeners for the last five, but many amateurs are unaware of the increased yields and vigour they offer.

Although they can cost an average of £10 for three plants, the rootstock encourages greater vigour and your plants will crop earlier and continue later into autumn and produce heavier crops, plus they will have greater resistance to pests and diseases.

Suttons is increasing its range of new grafted plants for 2012, featuring the tomatoes F1 'Cupido', a small, sweet plum type replacing 'Dasher' in the range, along with Tomato 'Twins', which has two varieties from two grafts and one rootstock, producing two different types of cherry tomato - 'Orangino' and 'Floryno' - on two stems, and Tomato F1 'Shirley', which produces medium-sized fruits.

Other grafted plants you can try include sweet peppers, melons, cucumbers and butternut squash.

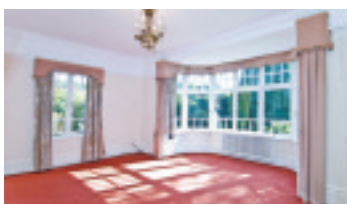

It's a delicate process – plant grafting in progress

Greek with a Latin heart

THE Italian-American connection has brought to Britain, among other things, a popular restaurant chain, pizza and ice-cream in a seemingly endless variety of flavours.

Now the link between Chrysler and Fiat has brought us something new, which both automotive giants hope we'll find just as appealing to our palate.

Chrysler is hoping to reinvent itself in this country with no fewer than seven new models over the next five years, beginning with the Ypsilon and the larger Delta which went on sale this month.

While they carry the Chrysler badge and grille, both are powered by a range of proven, economical engines familiar from the popular Fiat 500 range, and Italian styling to give them a distinct, even head-turning, identity.

Both, in fact, have already enjoyed some success on the other side of the channel with a Lancia badge.

Chrysler has long had a relatively small but significant presence in this country with its legendary Jeep brand and the Voyager MPV, but has never managed to crack the all-important small family car and supermini markets.

Quite simply, it has had little to offer except for the likes of the very American Neon of a few years ago, which sold in small numbers.

Now the company has worked closely with its majority stakeholder, Fiat, to produce two far more relevant offerings, both hatchbacks with the accent on interior space with modern, economical engines including the Fiat 500's Twin Air, voted International Engine of the Year.

The small of the two (a Fiesta/Corsairival) is the Ypsilon (pronounced Epsilon as in the Greek letter E), a compact but curvy hatch with prices from £10,695.

Magic

Engine choices are the latest version of the familiar 1.2-litre 'Fire' petrol, the 1.3 diesel multijet and the 900cc Twin Air.

The diesel averages over 74mpg, the Twin Air over 67mpg, and both have CO2 emissions figures below the magic 100g/km mark, so are exempt from road tax.

The 1.2 engine, the cheapest in the line-up, has figures of 57.6mpg and 115g/km. All models have an automatic 'stop/start' system to save fuel in traffic.

I drove the Twin Air, although the first thing which struck me wasn't the engine but the surprising amount of interior space hiding within this compact interior.

Headroom and rear-seat passenger space are particularly generous, even for taller occupants.

And it has a class average 245 litres of boot space with five people on board.

air conditioning and audio controls.

road surfaces which can upset some small, light cars.

It's no surprise it was voted International Engine of the Year, especially with the bonus of a Ferrari-like growl if you test that sprint time for yourself. Do that, though, and you very rapidly hit the rev limiter and lose the fuel economy benefits. The Ypsilon feels solid for a small car, with well weighted steering and confidence-inspiring handling.

Like Fiats, it has a 'city' button which makes the steering lighter for easier handling around town and when parking.

The Ypsilon is a small car, but it's not a Lancia with a

Skoda wins caravan award for the second year running

The aptly named Superb is worth its own weight when it comes to towing says the Caravan Club

THERE'S nothing quite like holding on to your crown, and Skoda UK is having a fantastic year doing just that.

The brand's latest repeat triumph comes in the 2012 Caravan Club Towcar of the Year Awards, where the Skoda Superb Estate Elegance 2.0-litre TDI DSG took top honours in the £25,000-£32,000 category. It's a feat the acclaimed family load-lugger also achieved last year.

The judges, made up of experienced motoring journalists and seasoned caravaning experts, were bowled over by the Skoda.

They described it as "the best on hill starts by a mile", "effortless to drive and tow with", "confidence-inspiring" and a "pleasant environment to be in".

Skoda UK Brand Director, Robert Hazelwood, said: "Winning any honour once is a great achievement but to do it again is testament to the outstanding engineering, and quality of the Skoda range.

"We know the caravaning community is an enthusiastic supporter of the Superb Elegance Estate.

"Its powerful 2.0-litre diesel engine and efficient DSG transmission create a refined and stable base for stress-free long-distance towing."

Variety

The 2012 competition attracted 30 entrants from a variety of big-name car manufacturers.

Rigorous testing was conducted, as it is every year, at the Millbrook Proving Ground in Bedfordshire.

This year's special guest was former F1 driver Johnny Herbert, who attended the testing and presented the awards to representatives from the winning manufacturers at a ceremony in central London. The 30 cars were divided into three price classes and two all-wheel-drive categories (up to 1800kg and over 1800kg). Manufacturers were invited to submit any models that were new launches in the period August 1, 2010 to September 30, 2011, or existing models that had been substantially modified.

The Skoda Superb Estate was invited back because it was last year's overall Towcar of the Year, as well as the class winner.

As the 2012 result showed, the car easily proved up to the challenge of newer rivals.

During track tests the judges assessed each car's towing ability as well as acceleration, braking and the ability to cope with demanding hill starts. They also made careful assessments of each entrant's usability in terms of everyday caravaning.

Extra power potential and exciting design touches put the new Corsa VXR in a class of its own

New Corsa on track

Vauxhall's new Corsa VXR Nürburgring Edition promises to be one of the quickest B-road cars in its class, as the first cars enter UK showrooms this month.

At its heart is a reworked version of the Corsa VXR's 1.6-litre turbocharged engine which produces 205PS at 5,750rpm (up from 192PS) and 250-280Nm of torque (up from 230-266Nm). A modified engine management and turbocharger system, sports exhaust, and the ability to run on 98-octane fuel have contributed to the rise in power.

To harness the Nürburgring's power potential, Vauxhall fitted a mechanical, multi-plate limited-slip differential, ensuring its 205PS doesn't go up in a cloud of tyre smoke, and giving the car optimum traction at all times.

Control

Understeer is reduced and that the more throttle the driver applies through a bend, the more the vehicle grips. Perhaps the icing on the Nürburgring's cake is its chassis, which received its sign-off at the Nürburgring's notorious Nordschleife, or North Loop.

Vauxhall commissioned Bilstein to develop spring and damper units, allowing drivers an even higher degree of control and involvement. A visual clue is a ride height reduced by 20mm at the front and 15mm at the rear.

Complementing the chassis modifications are Brembo brakes, which are 30 per cent lighter than before with high-performance brake linings covering a 10 per cent larger area. The VXR's ABS, traction control and electronic stability control systems have been recalibrated.

With performance of 0-60mph in 6.5 seconds and a top speed of 143mph, the Corsa Nürburgring will deliver driving thrills worthy of the legendary track.

It gets a stainless steel dual exhaust, forged aluminium wheels in high-gloss grey, and 'Nürburgring' logos on the B-Pillars and front spoiler lip.

There are two new colours – apple green 'Grasshopper' and red 'Henna'. 'Nürburgring' lettering adorns the sill plates and front Recaro seat backs, with white stitching on all seats, the handbrake and gearshift console.

The Nürburgring Edition is on sale at £22,295.

Kia adds extra touch of luxury to cee'd trim

Kia has included a top-of-the-range '4' trim level to augment the cee'd and cee'd SW ranges

KIA has added a new top-of-the-range '4' version, with increased power output and high level of specification, to its cee'd and cee'd SW line-ups.

Launched this year on the pro-gee'd three-door hatchback, the '4' version is a logical extension of Kia's simple trim-naming structure above the existing '1', '2' and '3' versions.

The cee'd '4' family hatchback and cee'd SW '4' family estate car share the same 1.6-litre CRDi turbodiesel engine that produces 126bhp at 4,000rpm – up from 113bhp on other trim versions – and 188lb/ft torque (255Nm) from 1,900 to 2,750rpm. A six-speed manual transmission is standard and a 4-speed automatic transmission is available as an option on the cee'd SW '4'.

Top speed on both manual variants is 122mph with the 0-60mph dash taking 10.6 seconds in the hatchback and an additional 0.2 seconds in the estate. CO2 emissions for the cee'd '4' are 119 g/km, placing it in VED band 'C', while the combined-cycle fuel consumption figure is an economical 62.3mpg.

A more sporting exterior has been achieved with 17-inch alloy wheels, black bezel headlights and rear window privacy glass. The side indicator repeaters have been integrated into the door mirrors. Inside, full black leather upholstery combined with front heated seats and a leather trimmed steering wheel and gear-knob add a luxurious feel. Cruise control, with steering wheel mounted controls, and electrically-operated heated and folding door mirrors get marks for convenience.

Obstacles

High-tech features include a seven-inch colour touch screen system which acts as the infotainment hub and controls a fully-integrated colour satellite navigation system, with European mapping, as well as the radio, CD player, iPod connectivity and Bluetooth hands-free systems. A parking camera system offers a colour view of obstacles behind the vehicle and is displayed on the same screen. The cee'd SW version adds audible reverse-parking sensors to this list.

The cee'd '4' and cee'd SW '4' are available to order now and priced at £19,195 and £20,345 respectively on-the-road. The automatic option on the cee'd SW costs £1,100 whilst the sporty-looking pro-gee'd '4' is £18,995 on-the-road.

As with all new Kia vehicles, a seven-year, 100,000-mile, fully transferable warranty comes as standard.

Tiguan fantastic in spite of the plastic

By Ian Donaldson

PERHAPS I'm spoilt but it seems ages since I grasped a steering wheel covered in plastic. Nicely moulded and quite grippy, but plastic nonetheless. Even rather modest cars regard a skimming of cowhide as essential to give the cockpit a glimmer of glamour these days.

But here in front of me – and in a new model of Volkswagen – was a wheel unashamed to flaunt its plasticity.

Do you know what? After a decent drive in this smart new Tiguan, I couldn't have cared if the wheel had been covered in fluffy pink fake fur. Well not much, anyway.

For this car was one of the least expensive of the new-look Tiguan range, a series that in original form was the fourth biggest seller for VW in the UK (behind Golf, Polo and Passat): one of the Tiguan Essentials, so to speak.

At £21,730 it's the cheapest diesel Tiguan on sale and only a little dearer than the lead-in, the £21,085 1.4 litre petrol model which is much quicker and a lot thirstier.

The range tops out with the £28,020 TSI Sport 4MOTION, with a powerful petrol engine. VW believes most buyers will take a mid-range diesel.

The test car's Bluetotion Technology tag means VW has given a nod to extended economy, with an engine that stops and starts itself at traffic lights and indicates on the dash when you should change gear for maximum economy.

Weight

A surer way of saving fuel in the cheaper Tiguans is the fact they don't have all-wheel drive. That's bad for proper off-roading (which you can bet most owners wouldn't contemplate) but good because it saves weight, and that means improved fuel consumption with less car to lug around.

Around one in five Tiguan buyers are expected to take the front-drive only option, happy in the knowledge their car still looks like a potential off-road hero.

The 108bhp engine in the test car is new to the Tiguan and has found a comfortable home: it pulls lustily, never makes too much noise and ought to make visits to the pumps a little less of a pain than they might be.

The lack of a bulky drive system might also explain why the car feels so light on its feet. That's a welcome trait and a little unexpected in a car that might be only mid-size for an SUV but still occupies a significant area of Tarmac.

VW says it tops out at 109mph, reaches 62mph in 11.9 seconds and travels 53.3 miles to the gallon in everyday use: like all official figures, likely to be optimistic. Tailpipe emissions put this Tiguan in the £100 annual road tax bracket and won't hit a company car driver too hard.

But back to the poverty-spec steering wheel. It's joined on this car's no-can-have list by cruise control and audio buttons on the steering wheel, both nice to have but far from deal breakers if the rest of the car lives up to expectations.

So sighs all round when I discover it does. And, it's pretty well equipped, even if that steering wheel feel threatened to get proceedings off on the wrong foot (or hand).

Dig deeper and the list of standard kit starts to look enticing, with air con, alloy wheels, DAB radio and an eight-speaker sound system, electronic parking brake with auto-hold (which comes on when you halt the car and releases as you move away)... even electric windows all round and a trip computer.

Many buyers may decide they need no more. Not even a leather covering to hang on to...

Even without the benefits of all-wheel drive, the Tiguan looks like a credible off-roader

Committee member Martin Millard and chairman Keith Hardy with the award

Wyrley add to trophy cabinet

WYRLEY Juniors FC kept their remarkable run of good news going last Thursday night (October 6) when they received the Black Country Consortium Sport & Physical Activity Awards Community Club of the Year award.

The awards were open to all clubs in every sport, with the evening, held at the Copthorne Hotel, Merry Hill, hosted by Hugh Porter MBE.

Wyrley Juniors FC is the current holder of the FA National Community Club of the Year and was delighted to hear that it was the Black Country winners of the award.

Club chairman Keith Hardy said: "This award came completely out of the blue, but is additional recognition for our efforts. We are delighted that the efforts of over 100 volunteers have been again recognised."

Wyrley has 45 teams in all and the club has recently completed a £1.15m clubhouse facility at Long Lane, Essington, which will also be open to locals as a community centre.

Reserves climb to top following five-star show

CHASETOWN RESERVES 5 RUGBY TOWN RESERVES 2

CHASETOWN Reserves climbed to top spot of the Midlands Combination Reserve Division 1 after a hard-fought victory against rookie outfit Rugby Town.

It was a young Rugby FC Reserve side that took to the field at the Scholars Ground. All players are part of the recently formed Cordon Strachan Football Foundation. Tutors include the Scot himself and former Republic of Ireland International Gary Breen. Before this encounter they had made a positive start to the season having only lost once.

Chasetown started the more positive and opened the scoring after 10 minutes through Drew Aiton. Aiton went unbelievably close again as he collected a through ball from Karl Edwards, beat his marker and hammered the ball into the top upright. But somehow it ricocheted against the underside of the bar and back into play.

Rugby started to edge their way back into the reckoning, on 23 minutes and their confidence grew. Another fluent passing move came from Chasetown which led to a corner on the right after Liam Browne had cleared at the feet of Karl Edwards. David Bridgewater played the corner short to Chad Degville-Cross, who from 30 yards out chipped the keeper from the angle. Just when Rugby were settling to exit the half a goal down, Karl Edwards made it three.

A 51st minute penalty reduced the arrears but Chasetown responded with gusto and Edwards helped himself to his second goal of the afternoon with a chipped volley beyond Thwatt's reach.

This seemed to take the wind out of Rugby and their threat had totally died. Jonathan Gould rattled the bar, as the hosts eased their way towards the final whistle. The fifth did arrive in the shape of hat-trick for proud dad Edwards – playing his first game since son Harry was born – on 88 minutes.

The Reserves travel to Banbury for the Challenge Trophy cup tie this Saturday (October 15) their second outing to Oxfordshire this season.

CHASETOWN RESERVES/LADIES

CHASETOWN LADIES 2 CRESSWELL WANDERERS 4

A battling performance from Chasetown Ladies in the second half in particular wasn't enough to turn round a first half deficit.

Chasetown were ahead with just a minute goal when Lucy Allen shot home, but Cresswell gradually got back in the game and hit the post on 10 minutes, before levelling on 18.

Two minutes later, Cresswell led through a fortuitous strike when a cross from the left wing flew in above Becky Troth's head to stun the home side.

Man of the Match Troth made another good save before half-time and, from the resultant corner, Cresswell hit the bar.

Cresswell increased their lead just short of the hour mark, with a neat move and right foot shot which gave Troth no chance and then were 4-1 up 12 minutes later.

To their credit, Chasetown Ladies never gave up and with 15 minutes left had a life-line when Katie Rose and Stacey Roberts combined with a neat one-two just outside the area, with Rose's shot too powerful for the Wanderers keeper.

TNT prove dynamite as they sink the Mary Rose

FOURTH division T.N.T knocked out Mary Rose from the second division 3-2 after extra time in the second round of the Cannock Chase Cup.

Second division Legion just edged out fifth division Church Hill 3-2.

In the first round of the Division Two Cup, leaders Broomhill Albion needed extra time and then penalties to knock out second placed Cheslyn Hay. After two goals by Ben Haseley and one for Mike Evans, the penalty shoot out was won thanks to goalkeeper Richie Wakelin.

Victoria Ath knocked out Bar Sport 6-1. Chris Clewlow scored a hat-trick with one each for Andy Turner, Jay Worrall and Mark Wright. The Littleton beat Inex Wyrley 2-1.

Harrisons knocked out Crystal Fountain 4-1. Paul Warren bagged two and one each for Rich Clark and Matt Brotherton.

A second half goal from 16 year old Jake Allen was enough for AFC Littleton to beat New Inns 1-0. The Bridge easily knocked out Celtic Barns 9-2. Matty Riddes scored four goals, Lee Taylor two and one each for Mikey Corrigan, Russ Gooch and Matty Gray.

Division Four leaders Winding Wheel came from one down to beat Rugeley Rangers 3-2 thanks to a hat-trick from Nick Hodgkiss.

Aaron Stubbs and Matt Wood. Lamb & Flag beat St Mary's 2-0 with second half goals from Mark Reynolds and Jamie Thacker. In division five, AFC Globe beat Nags Head 4-1. Aaron Tunstall bagged two. Forest Rangers and Jubilee drew 2-2.

Ath Bridge drew 4-4 with the improving Bridgtown Social.

WYRLEY JUNIORS UTD 3 FOUR OAKS PUMAS 7

United gave a good account of themselves in this cup game.

Pumas took the lead but Wyrley missed a penalty which would have drawn them, level.

Another penalty was saved, but from the rebound the ball was squared to Tom Peacock to tap home.

Pumas went 3-1 up but an own goal and a Tom Wheelon effort drew Wyrley level before Pumas ran out winners in extra time.

WYRLEY WANDERERS U-10 3 SILVERDALE 1

Wyrley won the game with ease with Joe Coates opening the scoring early on and Man of the Match Harvey Taylor adding two more soon after. Silverdale scored late on in the game.

WYRLEY WANDERERS U10 3 TIPTON HAWKS 4

Wyrley let slip a 3-0 goal lead given to them by Joe Coates (2) and Man of the Match Todd Baker.

CHASETOWN SCHOLARS U-13 1 BEACON COLTS 0

Scholars retained their 100 per cent record, but once again they had to be patient before securing all the points.

Jake Allen's header from Brandon Smith's free-kick was the difference. Man of the Match was Daniel Lynskey.

PELSFORD 5 CANNOCK TOWN U12 6

Cannock Town played a fantastic game of football by beating a higher division team to make it into the next round of the League Cup.

twice Cannock led through James Williams and Kyle Caven but each time they were pegged back.

Cannock added four more goals before half-time through Jack Cartwright (2). Endeavour Award winner Cameron Brough and Ethan Russon.

They were made to sweat, however, as Pelsford hit back with three second half goals.

Goalkeeper Ryan Salt was awarded Player of the Match.

CRESSWELL WANDERERS U13S 6 STAFFORD RANGERS 1

With both teams locked at the top of division 1 this was a massive game for Cresswell. In a fantastic game between two good sides, four goals from in form striker Ryan Brookes and a lovely brace from Nathan Griffiths was just the icing on a very tasty Cresswell cake. Man of the Match was Jake Brookes.

BURNWOOD DRAGONS U-9 3 COLON 1

A game in which Dragons struggled to get their passing game going and take control of the game. With the scores level at the break Alex Tisdell opened the scoring from close range. The visitors equalised with an unstoppable free kick, then with the game heading towards extra time Dragons were awarded a penalty for hand ball. Up stepped Alfie Allan-Smith to put Dragons back in front. Alex Tisdell completed his brace.

BRERETON TOWN 1 BURNWOOD DRAGONS REDS U-12 2

A hard fought game between two evenly matched teams, saw the Reds take the lead through a Connor Grant.

The home side responded and were awarded a penalty, but were denied by a great save from Man of the Match Luke Mills-Fleming.

The home got their equaliser but with less than a minute left Grant completed his brace with a high looping shot to deceive the unlucky Brereton keeper.

HAWKINS SPORTS U-12 1 SPORTSCO 0

Hawkins managed their third win on the trot in a scrappy game with few clear cut chances.

The match was settled with a moment of real quality as Scott Harris deftly chipping the keeper. Further efforts were cleared off the line or hit the post.

PENKTRIDGE JUNIORS 1 LEA HALL U-14 3

A cross from Lea Hall's Tom Dalziel allowed Natiq Chowdhury to open the scoring early on into the game.

The second half saw another goal for Lea Hall from skipper Alfie Price, giving them a comfortable 2-0 lead. Penkridge Juniors' efforts were rewarded as they pulled one back but in the closing stages

JUNIOR FOOTBALL

Cameron Harrison scored a penalty for Lea Hall.

The Manager's Player choice went jointly to Josh Deeley and Tom Dalziel and Parents' Player was Declan Higgins.

HEDNESFORD TOWN HARRIERS U12 12 SHIRE OAK BULLETS 1

A slow start from Harriers meant they went a goal down. But they took control and responded well with Brandon Parker, George Atkinson and Harry Mills all scoring two to add to Reece Lappin's double hat-trick – taking Harriers top after a 100 per cent start.

CANNOCK TOWN U10 JUNIORS 1 LICHFIELD CITY VIKINGS 4

Cannock were 2-0 down before Lee Mitchell pulled one back, but two more Lichfield goals followed in the second half.

LAKESIDE UNDER 12 2 STAFFORD RANGERS 0

LICHFIELD ROUND TABLE U-15 5 RS STRETTON BLACK 0

An excellent all round performance saw LRT come out comfortable winners against Stretton with the defence deserving a mention for keeping a clean sheet.

Josh Rudge headed LRT into the lead and later added a second.

Substitute Jack Clayton added numbers three and five, in between a goal from Adam Milner.

Stretton were unfortunate to hit the bar twice.

SPORTCO 0 LICHFIELD ROUND TABLE U-11 8

LRT started the cup defence with a convincing victory at unbeaten Sportco.

Ryan Stewart scored four with regan bridges also scoring a hat-trick and Adam Peat also on target. Man of the Match was Reece Thompson.

SHELFIELD UNITED 0 LICHFIELD ROUND TABLE U-9 2

Changes were made in the LRT camp as they came up against a strong Sheffield side in the first round of the Cup. Joe Poulton's terrific free-kick gave LRT the lead, and after several good saves from the Sheffield keeper, Man of the Match William Stouman confirmed the victory.

CHASETOWN GIRLS U13 0 HEDNESFORD 1

This was a hard fought match, as ever, against the current league leaders.

Chasetown had the better of the play for the majority of the match but Hedsford were always dangerous on the break. Chasetown unfortunately lost top scorer Beth Hickman and for the remainder of the game Rhianon Winwood, Player of the Game Molly Heale and Summer Johnson all had shots that squeezed just wide of the post.

HEDNESFORD UNITED U12 GIRLS 6 WALSALL LADIES 1

Hednesford United got back to winning ways against strong Walsall side.

Paige Smith-Kirkham opened the scoring and Hednesford scored again through Lana Titley before conceding.

Hednesford responded well, though and took the advantage back again with a goal from Kate Clinton.

Taylor Gillis worked hard and got her rewards in the second half.

Smith-Kirkham netted her second of the game before Lois Brindley completed the scoring. Players of the Match were Katie Smith and Tiffany Whelan.

WYRLEY PUMAS U-14 GIRLS 1 HEDNESFORD UNITED 2

Hednesford began the stronger of the two sides, but it was halfway through the first half before they took the lead with Katie Cox scoring.

Hednesford continued to dominate with Ellie Bilson scoring the second.

In the second half Pumas came back and scored, but Hednesford managed to hang on. The manager's player of the match went to Katie Cox with Charlie Philpott winning oppositions player.

LICHFIELD DIAMONDS U12 2 BARTON ROVERS GIRLS 0

Diamonds were little lacklustre in front of goal, but worked hard to keep a clean sheet. Millie Fletcher scored a great free kick and Chelsea Czekeryla made in 2-0.

LICHFIELD DIAMONDS U12 16 SILVERDALE GIRLS 0

Against an inexperienced but spirited Silverdale team Diamonds took the opportunity to move a few players round.

Keeper Anna Hill had a run out on the left wing and netted twice. Other scorers were Julia Kings (6), Elizabeth Palmer (3), Charlotte Jarvis (2), Libby Dunne with her first goal for Diamonds, Mae Murphy and Danni Oxley.

AFC PHOENIX GIRLS U14 2 LICHFIELD DIAMONDS U13 3

It was a very confident start from Diamonds who went ahead through a Steph Speck stunner, though Phoenix led 2-1 at half-time. Speck levelled before Katie Hitchcock won it. Danielle Harley was Player of the Match.

LICHFIELD DIAMONDS U16 1 RED STREET 1

A lacklustre performance from Diamonds ended with a fair result. Paige Cartwright put Diamonds in front midway through the first half.

Father and son duo hold Keys to club success

THE ENGLAND rugby team may have flopped in New Zealand but things may have gone a little differently if they'd followed the lead of a Rugeley father and son.

Steve and Matty Keys both play for Rugeley RFC seconds and have been playing alongside each other helping the team's bid for promotion.

The pair, aged 45 and 18 respectively, have been teamwork personified in recent weeks, even combining to score a try last month with Steve setting up Matty for a 40-metre dash to the posts in a victory over Wednesbury.

Scrum half Steve has been a Rugeley player for 29 consecutive seasons while Matty is a fledgling youngster in his second year with the senior side.

Keys junior, a fly half, said it had been an interesting experience playing alongside his dad. "It's been good although we've been bossing each other around a bit," he added.

"It's not really father and son when we're on the pitch – more teacher and pupil.

"Our team mates think it's a laugh but my mum's trying to get dad to retire, I think he'll be around for a while yet though."

League campaign on track as newcomers are beaten

CANNOCK LIONS 43 BISHOPS CASTLE & ONNY VALLEY 15

CANNOCK got their league campaign back on track with victory over the new boys.

The hosts were pleased to welcome back forwards Scott and Palij after recent absences adding even more strength to an already dominant pack.

The game took a slow start with some odd decisions going in favour of the visitors, giving them early territory attacking down the slope.

Bishops Castle were given three early shots at goal two of which were converted, but Cannock, through their well drilled set piece and excellent determination at the break down, gradually got going.

The decision to turn down a penalty opportunity at goal paid dividends when Buckley showed great maturity at the ruck to spot a missing guard, pick and drive over from inside five metres.

Cannock continued to apply the pressure throughout the first half and Castle's only way to release the pressure was through the boot. The back three of Pedley, Deakin and Plateau ran back the ball each and every time always beating at least the first man before offloading or setting up quick ruck ball. Plateau was unlucky not to score from a return when his mazy run was called back for blocking in the midfield.

Simple

Man of the Match Jukes, stand-in scrum half, kept the opposition back row honest with sniping runs around the fringes and his hard work was rewarded with a pick and go under the posts.

Cannock started the second half in rampaging fashion. Deakin made a run-in look simple, while second rower Brookes moved to 13 and powered over for two tries.

Palij showed the burgeoning Cannock support what they had been missing by turning over ball in defence which unleashed Stanaway to smash down the wing barrelling defenders out of path. A quick ball allowed S. Pedley to give a perfectly timed pop pass to Yates who ran in from 40 yards. Castle responded with two tries of their own.

Again Cannock were quick to respond and S. Pedley was able to commit a tackler and give a perfectly placed pass to put in P. Pedley for a simple run in, which was converted.

This weekend Cannock travel to Leesbrook, in Derby, in the Junior Vase and the Cannock Vets play their first game of the season at Congleton.

Cannock have fielded three teams for the last three weeks and training, with level three qualified coach Paul Buckley, continues on Wednesdays, from 7 to 8.30pm, all players of any age or experience are always welcomed.

Cannock's juniors train on Saturday mornings from 10:15 onwards.

Honours shared in outstanding derby

RUGBY LATEST

ST LEONARD'S 12 RUGELEY 12

RUGELEY travelled the short distance to Stafford for what became an outstanding local derby.

Both sides were well matched and a great game of rugby union ensued with honours even at the end.

The first try for the visitors was a combination of superb play, great running and then an outstanding finish by club director Martin De Ridder, then, as always, converted with ease by Matty Keys.

The game continued with a great comeback by the home side with a fantastic run by their fly half to score under the posts, but the conversion was missed, bringing the score to 7-5 to the visitors at half time.

The second period again saw both teams locked in an end-to-end game with possession evenly matched.

Then on came Eddie Rodger for Rugeley who always gives full commitment and on this occasion once again proved to the crowd that he was a force to be reckoned with, by setting up and being instrumental to the scoring of Rugeley's second try by Matty Keys.

The home side once again came right back at Rugeley creating space and applying pressure on the defence, this paid off as a lack of discipline once again was the undoing of the Rugeley team, allowing the home side to sneak a try and a conversion on the whistle.

Man of the Match was Mathew Connell. Training is now at Rugeley Leisure Centre, Burnthill Lane, on a Tuesday and Thursday at 7pm.

Rugby side were well organised and passed the ball accurately around the pitch, but their forwards rarely threatened. Cannock came back at Rugby in the second half and several chances came and went.

CANNOCK 5TH XI 6 NORTH STAFFORD 4TH XI 0

In the second game of the league season Cannock travelled to North Staffs in high spirits and it took 25 minutes for Pete Warrender to break the deadlock.

Cannock came out for the second half all guns firing, soon going up 2-0 through Warrender again. A double was added by captain Karl Owen with a fourth goal in as many games from Mark Cotterill and with the last play of the game Jeevan Dhandha scored a well executed individual goal. Cannock are sitting top of the table.

CANNOCK 6TH XI 0 WOLVERHAMPTON 4TH XI 4

A Cannock team with a mixture of youth and experience started well but they were caught on the break and Wolverhampton managed to force the ball over the line. After some more pressure, Cannock were caught again and Wolverhampton were two up. Wolverhampton scored two more in the second half as Cannock pushed for a goal.

CANNOCK 7TH XI 3 LUDLOW 2ND XI 1

Cannock played host to Ludlow and won 3-1 thanks to a double from Gary Jones and a rare strike from Paul Parker.

CANNOCK BADGERS 'A' XI 4 OLD WULFRUNIANS BADGERS XI 0

Cannock Badgers finally had a home game and ran out convincing winners against Old Wulfs with all goals coming in the second half from Alex Kingston (2), Jamie Greenwood and Jordan Joiner.

CANNOCK LADIES 2ND XI 1 LEEK LADIES 1ST XI 2

Halfway through the first half, Leek used their high forward to score the first goal of the game. Holly Turbill equalised shortly after but this was cancelled out with another home goal.

CANNOCK LADIES 3RD XI 3 LEEK LADIES 2ND XI 0

Cannock Ladies 3rds won their first game of the season at the fourth attempt. Goals from Ellie Bradbury, Charlotte Cooper and Lucy McCarthy gave Cannock a crucial three points in their quest for a top four place.

CANNOCK LADIES 6TH XI 1 LICHFIELD 4TH XI 5

Cannock travelled to King Edward Leisure Centre and battled against a strong and skilful Lichfield side.

The first half was a very even game but Lichfield scored two goals in quick succession and Cannock replied through captain Teresa Martin. An injury to player of the match, Rita Parker, unsettled Cannock and Lichfield scored twice more and then added another one from a hit across the D.

BOURNVILLE 3 LICHFIELD MEN'S 2ND XI 2

In a well-fought and competitive encounter, Lichfield Men's 2nd XI were unlucky not to achieve at least a draw.

Greenbank levelled a Bournville strike, but the hosts regained the lead before half-time. Greenbank scored a second, but Bournville had already notched their third.

LICHFIELD MENS 4TH XI 2 LICHFIELD 5THS 0

In the inter club league match the 4ths managed to secure victory in a close match. Both goals came from short corners with Phil Round and David Eastland on target.

KINGS HEATH 1 LICHFIELD MENS 8TH XI 7

There was a hat-trick from Jony Groves, two for Oliver Mason and one each for Chris Sullivan and Jamie Wilkinson. Jamie Carter scored twice as the ninth XI defeated Cannock 2-0.

LICHFIELD LADIES 1ST XI 8 LOUGHBOROUGH STUDENTS 2NDS 3

Lichfield were at times superb and their finishing was deadly. Each sortie into the D paid dividends with goals from Nicola Mills (2), Ellie Keating (2), Lydia Riley, Jenny Rodgers and Jess Taylor-Tibbott. The best was saved until last – Amy Booth scored a reverse flick over the goalkeeper.

LICHFIELD LADIES 2ND XI 1 UTTOXETER 2NDS 0

Lichfield 2nds came back strong to thrash Uttoxeter. There was a hat-trick from Jo Wilcox, five goals from short corners – Nicola Menmuir (2), Ingrid Zanin, Katy Henman and Jo Grant. The remaining goals came from Sue Reeves and Jenny White (2).

Hosts seal victory with a late header

CHESTER FC 1 CHASETOWN 0

CHASETOWN'S frustrating season continued as Chester FC snatched an 88th-minute winner at the Deva Stadium on Saturday.

The Scholars looked much improved from recent form with all members of the side playing their part including new signing Linden Dovey.

However, substitute Michael Wilde's late header meant the Scholars sadly went home empty-handed.

Before a near-3,000 crowd the strong wind was against Chasetown in the first half and the home side had the ball in the net early through Chris Simm but the goal was ruled offside.

Danny Smith had the first chance for the Scholars on 14 minutes after firing the ball through a Blues defender's legs but his shot went wide of the far post, while Price pulled off a cracking save four minutes later to push away Matthew McNeill's effort at full stretch after he had ghosted behind the Chasetown defence.

George Horan and Liam Brownhill also enjoyed chances for the hosts but couldn't find the target, and Robbie Booth could only find the side netting on 34 minutes.

Chester's chances continued in the second half with Darren Stride blocking Simm's shot on 53 minutes, while Dean Perrow produced a good turn and shot for the Scholars but his effort was deflected away.

Alex Melbourne returned to the Chasetown fold when he replaced Jack Farmer and his cross on 71 minutes had home keeper John Danby at full stretch, but it was the Blues who had the ball in the net again on 75 minutes. Again the offside flag denied them the lead.

Another good chance saw McNeill hit the bar, while Gary Birch tried a 35-yard lob but keeper Danby managed to get back to push the ball out for a corner.

Just when it looked as if the Scholars would hold out, Wilde popped up to head home past the helpless Price.

CLEMENTS KEEPS HOME RUN GOING

HEDNESFORD TOWN 1 FRICKLEY ATHLETIC 0

CHRIS Clements followed up his winning goal in the FA Cup the previous week with another vital contribution as the Pitmen continued their long unbeaten home run.

The win also enabled Hednesford to keep pace with the top sides at the summit of the Evo Stik Northern Premier Division.

Frickley Athletic proved a tough test for Rob Smith's side as they defended in numbers during the first half, intent on preserving an away point, but three points were secured with another solid performance.

The home side had the majority of first half attacking play as their hosts defended deep and credit must go to the Pitmen for creating chances in a congested penalty area.

Gary Hay headed against a post from a Darren Campion corner on 13 minutes but the referee blew for a foul and Man of the Match Clements struck the bar with a superb free kick on 20 minutes as Adam Billard could only stand and watch. Jay Denny hit a left foot shot that deflected inches wide six minutes later and, from the resulting corner, a mêlée of players at the back post almost saw Cheyenne Dunkley head a second.

The deadlock was broken in first-half stoppage time as Clements controlled a loose ball, skipped past two flummoxed Frickley defenders and swept the ball into the far corner to register an early claim for October goal of the month.

The second period was a cagey affair as the home side soaked up pressure from a more offensive Frickley side who at least made a belated attempt to force some offensive pressure. Pedro Monteiro was a tower of strength at the back for Hednesford and without doubt played his best game in a Hednesford shirt.

The defensive performance restricted Frickley's advances and the closest the Yorkshire side came to an equaliser was when Chris Shaw misjudged a cross and almost diverted the ball into his own net.

Clements and Darren Campion had long range shots blocked by Billard but the away side nearly stole a point when Jack Watts broke down the left with six minutes to go and chipped Dan Crane only to see the ball fall a foot over the bar.

Visitors steel only their second win of season

CHASETOWN 1 STOCKSBRIDGE PARK STEELS 3

CHASETOWN'S up-and-down Evo-Stik League season continued with a 3-1 home defeat to bottom club Stocksbridge Park Steels on Tuesday night.

The first half was a tight affair but two early second half goals from Brian Cusworth placed the Scholars on the back foot and the Steels took only their second league success of the season.

The visitors went ahead when a fierce right-footed shot from Jack Muldoon left Price with no chance. Dean Perrow tried to break through on 39 minutes but Richard Haigh prevented him from shooting.

Four minutes later the Scholars equalised when a fine 35-yard free kick from Jack Farmer squeezed between keeper Scott and the post. The assistant's flag was instantly in the air but after consultation referee Brown awarded the goal. Just two minutes into the second half a mistake by Darren Stride allowed Cusworth into the area to fire home left-footed inside Price's near post and Stocksbridge were back in the lead.

Muldoon then dragged a shot wide before on 49 minutes Cusworth beat four defenders before hammering the ball right-footed, Price getting a hand to it but unable to keep the ball out and Cusworth had his second and the visitors' third.

Steels were now in the driving seat but Mark Hands continued his good showing for the Scholars. He had one effort blocked by Haigh and another saved by Scott following Peel's corner.

Gary Birch had their final chance of the evening when his backheader from a Peel free kick was pushed over the bar and the resulting corner was easily cleared. Chasetown take on local rivals Stafford Rangers this Saturday (3pm) in Charlie Blakemore's final game in charge.

Battling Hayes brush Causeway aside

HEATH HAYES 2 CAUSEWAY UNITED 1

HAYES produced another battling performance on Tuesday night to inflict a first Midland Alliance league defeat on second placed Causeway.

From the off a keenly-fought contest was in prospect as both sides fought tooth and nail for every ball.

The visitors were the first to crack on 14 minutes when, following a good move down the left, Carl Martin upended Andre Gonzales in the box and Dave Waple rifled home the resulting penalty. Play was fast and furious with both sides looking dangerous without really threatening to score.

However Causeway got themselves back in it on the half hour when Craig Gregg found space on the right and fired home a superb equaliser. Neither side looked like breaking the deadlock with defences in the main on top.

As the game progressed the visitors became increasingly frustrated at their inability to break down the well-organised home defence and lost their discipline with a series of rash challenges and needless bookings.

The winner came in the 68th minute from a surprising source, Ben Maddox getting a rare goal heading home a corner from Gonzales which somehow eluded a static Causeway defence.

Dave Waple had a good chance to put the result beyond doubt but headed tamely wide and Danny Jones must be wondering how he failed to equalise from Carl Hinds cross.

On Saturday Hayes will be hoping to make it six wins on the trot when they entertain league leaders Westfields.

This will be, followed by a home Staffs Senior Cup tie against Chasetown on October 18 and an away tie in The FA Vase at Norton United on October 22.

HIGHGATE UNITED 1 HEATH HAYES 4
A BRACE each from Ben Haseley and Dave Waple

continued Heath Hayes' recent good run to keep them in touch with the Midland Alliance leaders last Saturday. Apart from a 10-minute spell at the end of the first half, Hayes completely dominated, but it took until midway through the second half for them to make the game safe.

From the off the visitors laid siege on the home goal and it took a series of saves from home keeper Shaun Edwards and some wayward finishing to keep the scoresheet blank.

The breakthrough came on 15 minutes when Craig Hancox played a superb ball for Ben Haseley to outstrip the home defence and slot home.

On 24 minutes a rare home attack ended with Dan Povey being clumsily brought down by young full-back Luke Jones. However they were relieved when keeper Adam Jenkins brilliantly saved Ian Mitchell's spot kick.

On the hour, Andrew Davies and Haseley set up Waple to fire home the second. Waple added another following another smart move and Haseley scored a fourth.

Gate managed a consolation when Toby Checketts curled home an excellent free-kick.
